The Function of Tenses

A tense may be defined as that form of a verb which indicates the time and the state of an action or event.

In this manner a verb may refer to—

(A) Time of an action (Tense)

For example—

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-----------------------------|
| (i) He goes to school. | (Present time of an action) |
| (ii) He went to school. | (Past time of an action) |
| (iii) He will go to school. | (Future time of an action) |

From the above sentences, it will be clear to the students that there are three main tenses.

- (1) The Present tense, (2) The Past tense, (3) The Future tense

(B) State of an action (Function of tenses)

For example—

- | | |
|--|---|
| (i) I write letters regularly. | (Present tense, Habitual function) |
| (ii) I am writing a letter. | (Present continuous, Progressive function) |
| (iii) I have just written a letter. | (Present perfect, Preceding function) |
| (iv) I have been writing a letter for some time. | (Present perfect continuous, Time expression) |

The Tenses and their Functions

The Present Indefinite Tense

—Habitual Action

(A) This tense is generally used to denote 'habit, custom, practice, repeated action, permanent activity, general truth' etc.

These ideas are expressed by the adverbs of frequency such as 'often, seldom, usually, never, occasionally, sometimes, normally, generally, always, frequently, rarely, daily'.

For example—

- (i) The old lady goes for a walk in the morning.
 (ii) Pearl usually believes everybody.

- (iii) Arnav often gets late for lunch.
- (iv) Suhani always comes in time.
- (v) Shaurya Seldom gets up late.

(B) This tense is also used to make a statement in the present showing permanent nature and activity of the subject and eternal principles. For example—

- (i) I know him well.
- (ii) He teaches in St. Xavier College.
- (iii) The cow gives milk.
- (iv) Rivers freeze at high altitude.

Additional Uses of Present Indefinite Tense

Historical Present

- (i) Now Netaji enters and addresses the Indian soldiers.
- (ii) Now Arjun shoots arrows at Bhishma.

Future Arrangement

- (i) The Prime Minister arrives from New York tomorrow.
- (ii) He leaves his job next week.

Work Book Exercise (A)

Directions : Make the sentences using Present Indefinite tense with suitable forms of verbs given in the brackets.

1. Buses on this road every hour. (run)
2. His son to school regularly? (go)
3. He egg curry? (like)
4. He in the gymnasium daily. (not practise)
5. He dinner at 8 p.m. (not have)
6. He usually me at dusk. (visit)
7. Neena on the stage. (dance)
8. She at cards every afternoon. (play)
9. Apples ripe in autumn. (get)
10. The last bus normally at mid night. (leave)

The Present Continuous Tense

—Progressive Action

(A) This tense is normally used for an action in progress that is temporary in nature (not for a permanent activity) in the present at the time of speaking. For example—

- (i) She is not working. She is swimming in the river.
- (ii) It is raining outside.

(B) It also expresses future action or a definite arrangement in the near future. For example—

- (i) I am going to the cinema tomorrow.
- (ii) She is coming next week.

Additional Uses of Present Continuous Tense

(C) Continuous tense with 'always' may express an idea which is not to the liking of the speaker. For example—

- (i) She is always teaching her children.
- (ii) He is always praising his friends.

(D) There are some of the verbs which sometime don't admit of progressive action. Such verbs are called Non-progressive (Stative verbs). For example—

- (i) Verbs of Perception—See, taste, smell, hear, prefer, please.
- (ii) Verbs of Thinking Process—Think, know, mean, mind.
- (iii) Verbs Showing Possession—Own, have, belong, comprise, possess, contain.
- (iv) Verbs Expressing feelings or State of Mind—Believe, like, love, want, wish, desire, hate.
- (v) Verbs in General—Look, seem, appear, affect, resemble, cost, require, stand, face, become.

(a) Study these sentences carefully—

Incorrect

1. He is owning a car.
2. We are hearing the bell.
3. This house is belonging to me.
4. I am not hating him.
5. Are you forgetting my name?

The Present Perfect Tense (Imperfect Past) —Preceding Action

(A) This tense is a mixture of present and past. At the time of speaking the action is already complete in the past. It always implies a strong connection with the present though action took place in the past.

Generally, the following adverbs and conjunctions are used to express the preceding action.

'Ever, just, recently, already, yet, till (time), so far, of late, lately, before, (by) by the time, after' etc.

Note : 'Just' is used in the sense of 'already'. Other meanings of 'just' are 'now' and 'exactly'.

- (i) I have just seen that film.
- (ii) I have already had my breakfast.
- (iii) 'Ever' means 'any time in the past' and, 'always'.
- (iv) 'So far, yet, till' means 'upto now', upto this. (negative implication)
- (v) Of late, lately (recently, used only in Present Perfect Tense)

(B) Present Perfect + Point of time = Simple Past

It should be noted that point of time in the past indicates that action took place at a point in the past. The point of time in the past is expressed by 'Since, ever since, last, yesterday, the other day, ago, before, back' formerly, (any time in the past) etc. For example—

- (i) She has returned two days ago/before. (omit 'has')
 (ii) She returned two days ago. (Correct)

(C) Present Indefinite + Time expression = Present Perfect

This tense can also be used with 'since, for, how long, whole, all, throughout, all along' etc. to express time expression. For example—

- (i) He has known me for two years.
 (ii) She has owned this parlour since 2002.

(Note : Look up Perfect Continuous tense for details about time expression.)

Voice

A verb may tell us about what a person or a thing does. Therefore, a verb is said to be an action on the part of a doer/subject. For example—

- (i) They will do the work.
 - (ii) The teacher has punished the boy.

The verbs 'do, punish' are transitive. The actions of the subjects 'They, The teacher' passes over to the objects 'work, the boy'. Therefore, these verbs are called transitive.

The Verb may also tell us what is done to a person or a thing.

Now read the following sentences :

- (iii) The work will be done by them. (Passive Voice)
(iv) The boy has been punished by the teacher. (Passive Voice)

How to Define a Voice?

- (a) In active voice a sentence begins with a subject (They, The teacher) sentence (i) & (ii).
(b) In passive voice a sentence begins with an object (The work, The boy) sentences (iii) & (iv).

However, sentences only with transitive verbs admit of Passive Expressions.

Now study the following sentences :

- (v) Jaya came here.
 (vi) Father is going out.

The verbs 'come, go' are intransitive because these verbs do not have objects. The effect of the action does not pass over to any object. Therefore, these verbs are called intransitive. Since they are not used with object, they do not admit of Passive Expression.

Therefore, before making a sentence, a student must note carefully whether the sentence is beginning with subject or object.

How to Make a Passive Voice?

- (a) The passive voice of an active voice is formed by using the verb 'to be'. However, the original active verb must be converted into Past Participle.

(b) Object may be placed before the verb in passive expression.

Now study the examples.

Note : The forms of 'Be' as used in passive voice are explained in the table below—

In conclusion, the construction of these sentences may be represented as follows—

- In conclusion, the construction of these sentences are —

 - (a) (i) Subject + Transitive verb + Object (Active)
 - (ii) Subject + Intransitive verb. (Active)
 - (b) Object + To be + PP of Transitive verb + Subject (Passive voice)
 [Passive voice — Sentences (iii) and (iv)]

The Verb 'To be' (Study the following table)

The verb 'To be' has following two uses—

- As an auxilliary verb it is used with other verbs both in active and passive voice.
- As an ordinary/regular verb it is used in 'No verb' sentences.

The forms of 'to be'	Tenses	The forms of verb in passive voice	No verb
Be	Infinitive, Modals, Future Indefinite,		Noun
is, am, are was, were	Present Indefinite Past Indefinite	PP (Past Participle)	Pronoun Adjective
been	Perfect (Present, Past, Future)	of Transitive Verb	Adverb
being	Continuous (Present, Past), Participle/Gerund

The use of 'To be' in the passive sentences—

Object + be (be + PP of Transitive Verb) + by Subject

(A) Infinitive, (B) Modals, (C) Future Indefinite

- (i) He doesn't like to be punished.
- (ii) The young persons should be taught good manners.
- (iii) He will be punished for his misbehaviour.

Some Hints on Making Passive Voice

(I) The objects used in the following sentences are used with verbs which do not agree with the common rules of verbs. Such nouns are given in chapter on Nouns under Rule (iv) & (v).

Study the following sentences—

- (i) He gave me spectacles.
Spectacles were given to me by him.
(ii) They play Billiards.
Billiards is played by them.

In these sentences the noun 'spectacles' is followed by plural verb and 'Billiards' by singular verb. Students should take note of such misleading nouns.

(II) Study carefully the use of interrogative pronoun while changing active sentences into passive.

- 'Which, what' etc. are placed as they are
However, when 'What/Which' is used as a subject, it is changed into 'By what'.
But 'Who' is changed into 'By whom' and 'Whom' is changed into 'Who'.
(i) What are you writing?
What is being written by you?

- (ii) What makes you angry?
By what are you made angry?
- (iii) Who teaches you English?
By whom are you taught English?
Or Who are you taught English by?
- (iv) Whom are you teaching?
Who is being taught by you?
- (v) Which girl helped you?
By which girl were you helped?
- (III) (a) When the subjects are indefinite/vague pronouns or understood nouns, it is not necessary to use them in passive voice as 'by somebody'.
- (i) Somebody has picked my pocket.
My pocket has ~~been~~ picked.
 - (ii) They will declare the result soon.
The result will be declared soon.
- (b) Sentences beginning with negative indefinite pronouns are converted into negative. For example—
- (i) Nobody can change destiny.
Destiny cannot be changed.
 - (ii) None saw her in the parlour.
She was not seen in the parlour.
- (IV) When principle clause is followed by Noun clause as object the passive voice is made as follows—
- (i) People consider that he is honest.
It is considered that he is honest.
 - (ii) We hope that he will pass.
It is hoped that he will pass.
- Study these verbs carefully which are followed by Noun clause as object 'consider, believe, understand, suspect, report, say, claim, know, expect, allege, find', learn, require, suppose (appear, seem)
- (V) Verbs with two objects—Sometimes verbs are used with two objects in active voice sentences. Passive Voice can be made with either of the objects.
- (i) He gave me a book.
 - (a) I was given a book by him.
 - (b) A book was given to me by him.
 - (ii) They made him King. (Complement; King is complement of the verb 'make')
He was made King.
- (VI) 'By' is not used with certain verbs when making a passive voice, Instead we use at, with, in, to, etc.
- (i) I know him.
He is known to me.
 - (ii) Her sudden arrival surprised everyone
Everybody was surprised at her sudden arrival.

(VII) Infinitives

- (i) She is to write a letter.
A letter is to be written by her.
- (ii) They were to complete the work.
The work was to be completed by them.
- (iii) My sister has to buy a new car.
A new car has to be bought by my sister.
- (iv) There is nothing to lose.
There is nothing to be lost.
- (v) I would like someone to help me.
I would like to be helped.
- (vi) I am not to blame for the loss.

[Passive sense (responsible for)]

(VIII) Participles/Gerund

- (i) I remember my mother taking me to doctor.
I remember being taken to doctor by my mother.
- (ii) I found his friends laughing at him.
I found him being laughed at by his friends.

(IX) If a preposition or an adverb is used with a verb to convey specific meaning, it should not be removed while making a passive voice. For example—

- (i) Mothers look after their children.
Children are looked after by their mothers.
- (ii) You should not look down upon the poor.
The poor should not be looked down upon.

(X) The Verbs, 'Let, bid, make, help, feel, see, watch, hear', are used with direct infinitive (without to) in active voice.

In passive voice these verbs are used with Infinitive (to + verb)

'Let' is an exception. 'Let' is followed by direct infinitive both in active & passive voice sentences. For example—

- (i) I bade him go.
He was bidden to go.
- (ii) I have made her sing a song.
She has been made to sing a song.
- (iii) She let me go.
I was let go by her.

(XI) Imperative Sentences

- (i) Command and order
- (ii) Permission, Request, Advice

1. Command and Order

- (a) Passive—When object is given, use Let + object + be + Past Participle.

Modals

There are two classes of verbs.

- (i) Ordinary/Regular verbs,
- (ii) Auxiliary verbs

Auxiliary verbs are of two kinds :—

- (a) Primary Auxiliary
Be, Do, Have
- (b) Modal Auxiliary
May, might, should, must, will etc.

What is Modal Auxiliary?

A verb used to express the mood (mode) or attitude of a speaker is called Modal Auxiliary.

For example—

- (i) You should regularly go for a morning walk.
- (ii) They must attend tomorrow's meeting.
- (iii) May I use your pen please?
- (iv) You can park the car in front of our house.

- (ii) Yes, you may come in.

(C) Wish or Prayer

- (i) May you enjoy marital happiness!
- (ii) May you live long!

(D) Purpose

- (i) She works hard so that she may pass.
- (ii) She came so that she might see me.

(E) Remote Possibility

'Might' is used in place of 'may' to express remote possibility.

- (i) It might rain.
- (ii) He might be sleeping now.

Normally both 'May & Might' can be used to express possibility present and future. However, 'might' is used when the reporting verb is in the past. See sentence no. (iv) in (A) and sentence no. (i) in (D).

(F) May/Might+Have : They are used to express possibility/desirability relating to the past action. For example—

- | | |
|---|----------------------------|
| (i) He may/might have left yesterday. | (It is possible he left) |
| (ii) He might have failed. | (It is possible he failed) |
| (iii) Better, you might not have revealed the secret. | (The secret was revealed) |

Note : Sometimes 'May/Might have' give the opposite sense of the action.

2. Can & Could (Able to) : They are used to express—

(A) Ability (Present, Past & Future)

- (i) She can write English well. (is able to)
- (ii) Meetu could play at cards. (was able to)
- (iii) She will be able to help me. (future of 'can')
- (iv) I have been able to do it. (perfect of 'can')

(B) Polite request

(F) Could + Have : This form is used for past ability while indicating that the action did not take place. For example—

- (i) I could have revealed the secret. (but I did not)
- (ii) You could have borrowed money. (but you did not)
- (iii) The police could have arrested him. (but they did not)

Note : In all these sentences the action did not take place.

3. SHOULD : It is used to express—

(A) Duty/Obligation

- (i) You should stand by your brother.
- (ii) I should leave now.
- (iii) Promises should be kept.
- (iv) He should be present here.

(B) Future in the past

- (i) I told him that I should go there.
- (ii) Did I not tell you that I should qualify?

(C) Purpose

Walk carefully lest you should fall.

(D) Condition

Should you work hard, you will get success. ('should' is used in the sense of 'if').

(E) Should + Have : This form is used to express obligation in the past. It may imply the non-performance of the action. For example—

- (i) You should have stood by your brother.
- (ii) He should have left a message.
- (iii) He should have been present at the party.
- (iv) My brother should have replied politely.

Kinds of Sentences and Clauses

What is a Clause?

A group of words that forms a part of a sentence and has a subject and a finite verb of its own is called a clause. The number of finite verbs in a sentence joined by conjunctions determines the number of clauses.

Kinds of Sentences

There are three kinds of sentences as mentioned below.

- I. Simple sentence
- II. Complex sentence
- III. Compound sentence

I. Simple Sentence : A sentence which has only one finite verb is a simple sentence. It may have non-finite verbs, if required. For example—

- (i) She is walking.
- (ii) He has written a letter to help his son.

II. Complex Sentence : A complex sentence consists of a principal/main clause with one or more subordinate clauses. It means that a complex sentence has more than one finite verb. Sub-ordinate clauses are joined by sub-ordinating conjunctions. For example—

- (i) I know that he is a good man.
- (ii) I know the man who was here last month.
- (iii) When you do this work, I shall help you with money.

III. Compound Sentence : A compound sentence consists of two or more principal clauses. These clauses are joined by co-ordinating conjunctions such as—‘and, but, so, therefore, otherwise, or, else, nor, while, for, whereas, still, yet, nevertheless, however, as well as, all the same, indeed but’. (otherwise = or else)

The clauses of a compound sentence are called co-ordinate clauses. For example—

- (i) My brother came and he handed over money to me.
- (ii) She is rich but she is not vain.
- (iii) Speak or you will die.

- (iv) She is ill so she will not come.
- (v) She is intelligent while her sister is dull.
- (vi) It was dark, however we went out.
- (vii) He was convicted as well as fined.
- (viii) I was feeling tired all the same I went to office.
- (ix) It is cold indeed, but I will go out.

More About a Complex Sentence

As stated earlier a complex sentence consists of more than one clause. A Principal clause with one or more sub-ordinate clauses forms a complex sentence. There are three kinds of sub-ordinate clauses joined by their respective sub-ordinating conjunction. For example—

- (a) I know that he is a good boy.
- (b) I know the man who was here yesterday.
- (c) When you do this work, I shall give you money.

These sentences represent three kinds of sub-ordinate clauses—

1. Noun Clause—In the sentence (a) 'I know' is a principal clause.
'that he is a good boy' is a noun clause.
Noun clause explains the verb, noun and pronoun of the main or some other clause.
(Explanation)
2. Adjective Clause—In the sentence (b) 'I know the man' is a principal clause.
'who was here yesterday' is an adjective clause.
Adjective clause qualifies an antecedent (noun or pronoun) as the case may be.
(Qualification)
3. Adverb Clause—In the sentence (c) 'I shall give you money' is a principal clause.
'When you do this work' is an adverb clause.
Adverb clause is required to modify a verb, adverb or adjective in the main or some other clause. (Modification)

More about Sub-ordinate Clauses

(1) Noun Clause

Take care of the rules given below while writing a noun clause—

- (a) Use the conjunctions 'that, if, whether, when, where, how, why, what (whatever), who, whose, whom, which.'
- (b) Tense of the noun clause should be in the past if the verb of the main clause is in the past. The tense of universal truth does not change.
- (c) Noun clause should never be expressed in interrogative form.

Work Book Exercise (A)

Directions : A student is required to complete the following sentences with Noun clause.

1. Object to a Transitive Verb

1. I say
2. I said
3. I cannot say
4. She refused
5. I don't know what
6. I know what
7. I wonder
8. I doubt
9. I am certain
10. The police suspected
11. She confessed/admitted
12. She denied

Note : When noun clause begins with interrogative pronouns (conjunctions of noun clause) and is followed by principal clause, 'that' is used before interrogative pronouns : 'what, when, where' etc.

For example—

- (i) She says that when he will come is uncertain.
- (ii) She said that whether she would pass was doubtful.

2. The Case in Apposition to a Noun or a Pronoun (Apposition means placing near)

1. She never believed in his statement
2. No one heard the news
3. It is true
4. It is not known

3. The Subject of a Verb

Noun clause as a subject is used in place of pronouns 'it, this, that'? For example—
It is true what he knows.

What he knows is true.

1. What you are doing
2. Whether he will come
3. How she disappeared
4. That he is honest

Note :

5. Where she came from or where she lived is difficult to tell.
6. What he says and what he does are difficult to tell.

4. Object of Infinitive, Participle and Preposition

1. I was pleased by
2. Listen to
3. Everybody was pleased to note
4. Good students ought to realise
5. She kept on asking

5. Complement of a Verb

1. The hope is 2. The fact is

Note : Noun clause following the verbs—‘to be, become, seem, appear, grow, taste, smell, prove, look, make’ etc.—performs the function of a complement of these verbs (in place of predicate).

(2) Adjective Clause

While writing an adjective clause a student is required to observe the following rules :

- (a) Adjective clause should be placed after the antecedent (noun/pronoun) qualified by the adjective clause. ‘Those’ is used for ‘They’ and ‘Them’ as an antecedent.
- (b) The verb of the adjective clause should be (singular/plural) in accordance with the antecedent.
- (c) Use of connectives (relative pronouns)

Who, whose, whom	for living beings.
Which, of which, which	for non-living things and animals.
‘That’ may be used	for ‘who & which’. But ‘that’ is usually used if the antecedent is preceded by ‘ the same, all, only, nothing, little, few, superlative degree, interrogative pronoun, some, any .’
‘As’ is used	after ‘ the same or such ’ in place of who or which. [Refer to Note (2) under the Box]
‘Why’ is used	after reason as an antecedent.
‘When’ is used	after time as an antecedent.
‘Where’ is used	after place as an antecedent.
‘How’ is used	after manner as an antecedent.

Note :

(1) Conjunctions when, why, where, how used in adjective clause are relative adverbs. They express their meanings as follows :

1. I remember the year when she was married. (in which year)
2. She explained the reason why she had to tell a lie. (for which reason)
3. Has he told you the place where the accident took place? (at which place)
4. She told me the manner how her sister completed the work. (in which manner)

(2) The use of ‘As’ and ‘That’ with the ‘Same’ (is what way/manner)

(I) ‘That’ is used when ‘The same’ is used with a noun both in the case of qualification and resemblance.

- (i) I shall buy the same perfume that my friend bought. (resemblance)
- (ii) She is the same girl that asked me for books yesterday. (qualification)

(II) ‘As’ is used when ‘The same’ is used either without a noun or when the verb is unexpressed in the case of resemblance.

- (i) Just do the same as I do. (resemblance)
- (ii) I like the same perfume as she. (likes) (resemblance)
- (iii) I shall buy the same perfume that my friend bought. (resemblance)

[Refer to Rule on Pronouns]

Work Book Exercise (B)

Directions : A student is required to complete the following sentences with Adjective clause.

1. I know the man
2. This is my pen
3. I don't know any man
4. He is such a man
5. I have met all the boys
6. This is the best book
7. I have invited Mohan whose
8. I have invited Mohan whom
9. He is the man whose leg
10. It is the table the leg of which
11. I know the time
12. This is the reason
13. It is I
14. He is one of those boys
15. This is only one of her novels
16. This book is the same
17. She bought the same pearls
18. He settled in the town
19. Who am I ?
20. Let us help only those

(3) Adverb Clause

Adverb clause is one of the three sub-ordinate clauses. It does the work of an adverb. It modifies some verb, adverb or adjective in the main clause. Adverb clause may be classified as follows—

- (A) Adverb Clause of Time
- (B) Adverb Clause of Condition
- (C) Adverb Clause of Purpose
- (D) Adverb Clause of Place
- (E) Adverb Clause of Result
- (F) Adverb Clause of Reason
- (G) Adverb Clause of Concession or Contrast
- (H) Adverb Clause of Manner
- (I) Adverb Clause of Comparison

Note—Future tense in an adverb clause becomes Present.

(A) Adverb Clause of Time

- (a) This clause is introduced by conjunctions of time such as—
'when, whenever, as soon as, as, while, before, after, by the time, until, till, since, ever since, as long as.'

- (b) One should be careful in distinguishing between simultaneous and preceding/succeeding actions. Preceding action should be expressed in perfect tense as the case may be.

Study the following sentences carefully—

- (i) When she will arrive, she will tell us about the expedition.
(Change 'will arrive' to 'arrives'.)
 - (ii) When he completed the letter, he posted it.
(Change 'completed' to 'had completed').
 - (iii) As the teacher arrived, the students stood up.
(Correct)
- (c) Avoid the use of 'not' in the clause beginning with 'until'.
Please do not go until I return.
(Correct)
- (d) Clause beginning with 'since, ever since' should be in Past Indefinite/Past Perfect and the main clause should be according to the rules of time expression. (Perfect tense or perfect continuous) For example—
- (i) Since she came to Nagpur, she has not met me.
 - (ii) Since I returned from America, I have been working here.

Study the following sentences carefully—

- (i) I can't say when he will go.
(Noun clause)
- (ii) I know the time when he will go.
(Adjective clause)
- (iii) I shall give you money when you return my book.
(Adverb clause)
- (iv) It is (or it has been) a long time since we met.
(Correct)
- (v) It was (or it had been) a long time since I had met her.
(Correct)

(B) Adverb Clause of Condition

- (a) There are three types of conditional clauses. Each kind contains a different pair of sequences as follows :

Condition	Conditional Clause	Principal Clause
(i) Present likely condition	Present Indefinite	Shall/will
(ii) Present unlikely condition/Regret, wish	Subjunctive mood	Should/would
(iii) Past condition	Past Perfect	(Would, should, could, might) + have

Present likely

- (i) If he runs, he will get here soon.
- (ii) You will pass if you work hard.

Present unlikely/Regret, wish

- (i) If I had a stamp, I would give it to you.
- (ii) If I were rich, I would help you.
- (iii) I wish I were a queen.
- (iv) If I knew her address, I would send her a message.

Past condition

- (i) If she had written the letter, she would have got reply yesterday.
- (ii) If she had brought money, she could have enjoyed the picnic.

- (b) Conditional clauses are introduced with following connectives—
'If, unless, I wish, would that, I would, if only, suppose, on condition that, provided, in case. For example—
- (i) If you come by car, we will take you to temple.
 - (ii) In case you don't waste time, you can live here.
- (c) Sometimes sub-ordinate conjunction 'if' is omitted in adverb clause of condition. ('Should, were, had' are used instead.) For example—
- (i) Should you work hard, you will pass. (Present condition)
 - (ii) Were she intelligent, she would not do it. (Present unlikely condition)
 - (iii) Had I done it, I would not have repented. (Past condition)
- (d) Avoid the use of 'not' in the clause beginning with 'unless'.
 You will not pass unless you work hard.
- (e) 'Would that, I wish, I would & if only' are used to express regret or dissatisfaction with the present. Such expressions are expressed in subjunctive mood. For example—
- (i) Would that I were intelligent.
 - (ii) I wish I had money now.
 - (iii) If only I hadn't met her last year.
 - (iv) I wish I had had money then.

Note : 'Would', should be used when the subjects of the clauses differ, e.g.
 I wish you would help my brother.

(C) Adverb Clause of Purpose

Adverb clause of purpose is introduced by the conjunctions 'that, so that, in order that, lest'. For example—

- (i) He goes to Delhi every month so that he may see his ailing father.
- (ii) She came in order that she might borrow money.
- (iii) Work hard lest you should fail.

Note : 'not' is avoided in a clause beginning with lest

(D) Adverb Clause of Place

Adverb clause of place is introduced by the conjunctions 'where & wherever' but Adverb clause of place does not qualify any place given in the main clause. For example—

- (i) I shall go to Delhi where my father lives. (It is an adjective clause because it qualifies the noun 'Delhi')
- (ii) I shall follow you where you go. (Adverb clause)
- (iii) I do not know where he lives. (Noun clause)

(E) Adverb Clause of Result

Adverb clause of result is expressed by 'that' in the adverb clause preceded by 'so', 'such' in the main clause. For example—

- (i) He was so late that he had to miss the dinner.
- (ii) He is such an intelligent boy that he can easily pass.

(F) Adverb Clause of Reason

Adverb clause of reason is introduced by 'because, since, as, now that, that.'

- (i) I did it because my father told me to do it.
- (ii) As he was absent, he was punished.
- (iii) Since she came late, so she was fined. (Remove 'so')
- (iv) I am happy that you are successful. ('That' means because)

Note : 'so' and 'therefore' should be avoided in the main clause.

(G) Adverb Clause of Concession or Contrast

Adverb clause of contrast is introduced by 'Although, though, even if, however, whatever no matter what, no matter how, no matter where, no matter that etc., notwithstanding that admitting that, as, whether, even though, much as, come what may, say what you will'.

For example—

- (i) Though she is rich, she is unhappy.
- (ii) Rich as she is, she is not happy.
- (iii) Even if it is cold, I shall go.
- (iv) Though he was intelligent but he failed. (remove 'but')
- (v) No matter what I say, no body listens to me.
- (vi) I shall do it whether you like it or not.
- (vii) Much as I like to give you money, I can't do so.
- (viii) However rich he may be, he is not kind.

Note : The main clause following the adverb clause of contrast should not begin with 'but, nevertheless & still'. A student may write the main clause with 'yet'.

(H) Adverb Clause of Manner

Adverb clause of manner is introduced by 'as, as if and as though'.

Conjunctions 'as if' and 'as though' are used to express a contrary to fact statement.

Subjunctive mood is used in this kind of statements. For example—

- (i) She did it as she was advised.
- (ii) She talks as if she were the landlady.
- (iii) She talks as if she had belonged to a very rich family before her marriage.
- (iv) He looks as if he is my brother. (Resemblance) (Correct)

In sentence (iv), manner clause is not a contrary to fact statement. It means that he looks like my brother. (Resemblance)

(I) Adverb Clause of Comparison

Adverb clause of comparison is introduced by 'than' and 'as'.

Comparison should be made between the same cases of pronouns or between two persons or things being compared. For example—

- | | |
|---|--|
| (i) She is as good as he is. | (Affirmative) |
| (ii) She is not so active as they are. | (Negative) |
| (iii) She is as intelligent like her brother. | ('like' is a preposition, use 'as') |
| (iv) He is wiser than me. | (Use 'I' in place of 'me') |
| (v) My house is larger than her. | (Use 'hers'/'her house' in place of 'her') |
| (vi) The price of my book is less than your book. | (Insert 'that of' after 'than') |
| (vii) I found her smarter than he. | (Use 'him' in place of 'he') |

Chapter

Clause Analysis

As already stated in chapter on clauses a number of finite verbs in a sentence determine a number of clauses. Non-finite verbs are not considered for the purpose of clause analysis.

1. In a simple sentence, there is one finite verb and hence only one clause. For example—
 - (i) She is writing a novel.
 - (ii) Pearl will examine a patient.
2. In a complex sentence, there are more than one clause as follows—
 - (a) Principal/Main clause
 - (b) Sub-ordinate clauses—
 - (i) Noun clause,
 - (ii) Adjective clause and
 - (iii) Adverb clause.

These sub-ordinate clauses are joined by sub-ordinating conjunctions (Look up chapter 4, based on clauses)

3. In a compound sentence, there are more than one principal clause/co-ordinate clause related to each other.
 - (a) Principal clause
 - (b) Co-ordinate clause

Co-ordinate clause is joined by co-ordinating conjunctions (Look up chapter 4, based on clauses)

Note : However when co-ordinating conjunction joins two sub-ordinate clauses, the sentence remains a complex sentence. e.g.

- (i) I told her that she was polite and her sister was humble. (Complex)
- (ii) I told her that she was not polite and advised her to improve her behaviour. (Compound)

How to find out Clauses?

Now let us study how to analyse a sentence by pointing out the clauses separately and defining their functions.

1. Principal/Main Clause

While analysing a sentence, student is required to find out a Principal clause. It is easy to do so because the principal clause is not introduced by any joining conjunction.

Having found out the principal clause a student is expected to break up the rest of the sentence into sub-ordinate/co-ordinate clauses.

2. Sub-ordinate Clauses

- (i) Noun clause.
- (ii) Adjective clause and
- (iii) Adverb clause.

3. Co-ordinate Clause

Note : Refer to Chapter 4 (on Clauses) for the detailed study of the clauses before attempting the following questions.

The Manners of Conjunctions

Some of the conjunctions, denoting different meanings, have been used in the following sentences. As a result of this they form different clauses—

Chapter

Non-finite Verbs (Infinitives, Gerunds, Participles)

Study the following sentences carefully—

- (i) I have given him money.
- (ii) I like to give him money today.

In the sentence (i) the verb 'have given' has 'I' as its subject. The verb 'have given' is limited by the number and person of its subject. It is, therefore, called a finite verb.

In sentence (ii) 'like' is a finite verb. But 'to give' has no separate subject and is not limited by number and person. It is, therefore, called a Non-finite verb.

Forms of Non-finite Verbs

The Non-finite verbs are divided into three forms—

- I. Infinitives II. Gerunds III. Participles

I. Infinitive

Infinitive is a kind of noun with certain features of a verb. 'To' is used with infinitives. However, it is omitted sometimes.

Forms of Infinitive

As used in the following sentences :

- | | |
|---|---------------------------------------|
| (i) She comes here to study . | (Purpose) |
| (ii) Everyone desires to be admired . | (Passive voice) |
| (iii) He admitted to have abused him. | (Perfect infinitive) |
| (iv) He admitted to have been arrested last year. | (Perfect passive) |
| (v) He seems to be running out of money. | (Continuous infinitive) |
| (vi) He admitted to have been spying for the enemy for sometime. | (Perfect continuous, time expression) |
| (vii) Everyone desires to be popular . | ('Be' as an ordinary verb) |
| (viii) To err is human. | (Subject) |

Rules of Infinitive

Rule I

(A) (Verb/Adjective/Noun) + Infinitive

- | | |
|--|-----------------|
| (i) She comes here to study . | (Active voice) |
| (ii) Nobody likes to be cheated . | (Passive voice) |

- (iii) Everyone desires to be rich.
- (iv) To err is human. (It is human to err).

This verb
(Subject)

(B) Some of the verbs and adjectives are followed by infinitives.

agree, happy, desire, need, dare, hope, expect, decide, want, wish, refuse, eager, fail, glad, happy, herd, easy.

(C) How + Infinitive

When Infinitive is used to express manner, the full forms of infinitive is 'how to'.
The verbs implying manner/method are—

'know, learn, explain, teach, discover, wonder, show, ask, remember, forget'
etc. For example—

- (v) He knows how to write English.
- (vi) We taught him how to cook food.

Rule II : Difference between 'To' and 'For'

Study the following sentences carefully—

I went to see him.

[Correct (purpose)]

I went for seeing him.

(Incorrect)

'for seeing' cannot be used for purpose implying future because—

(A) For + Gerund is used for actions showing cause. (Action in the past). For example—

- (i) He will punish you for breaking the pen.
- (ii) He punished you for coming late.

(B) For + Gerund is used for showing purpose for which the subject is used. For example—

- (i) This book is to read. (Say for 'reading')
- (ii) This machine is to measure height. (Say for measuring)
- (iii) The house is to let. (Correct)

(C) For + Noun is used for purpose in place of to + verb when verb is made to serve as noun. For example—

- (i) We come here for a drive.
- (ii) Sameer requested for a rest.
- (iii) Esha went for a walk.

(D) To + Gerund is also used with certain verbs and phrases. For example—

- (i) She is used to swimming at dawn.
- (ii) Esha came here with a view to studying. [Refer to Rule III (Gerunds)]

Rule III : Direct Infinitive

In certain cases the infinitive without 'to' is used. We may call it infinitive without 'to' or Direct Infinitive.

Direct Infinitive is used after :

(A) 'Need' and 'Dare' in the negative and interrogative sentences only when they are used as auxiliaries. For example—

- (i) You need to work hard. (Affirmative)

- | | |
|---------------------------------------|------------------------------|
| (ii) You do not need to work hard. | (Negative as ordinary) |
| (iii) He need not work hard. | (Negative as auxiliary) |
| (iv) Do you need to work there now? | (Interrogative as ordinary) |
| (v) Need he work there now? | (Interrogative as auxiliary) |
| (vi) He dares to go outside in dark. | (Affirmative) |
| (vii) He does not dare to go in dark. | (Negative as ordinary) |
| (viii) He dare not go in dark. | (Negative as auxiliary) |
| (ix) Does he dare to go in dark? | (Interrogative as ordinary) |
| (x) Dare he go in dark? | (Interrogative as auxiliary) |

Note : 's' is not used with dare/need as auxiliary verbs.

(B) 'Direct Infinitive' is used after the verbs—'let, bid, make, know, help, feel, hear, watch, see'.

'Direct Infinitive' is used only when these verbs are used in active voice (not in passive voice except the verb 'let'). The verb 'let' is followed by direct infinitive both in active & passive voice. For example—

- | | |
|--|-----------------|
| (i) I made the student write an essay. | |
| (ii) The student was made to write an essay. | (Passive voice) |
| (iii) The teacher let him go out. | |
| (iv) He was let go out by the teacher. | (Passive voice) |

(C) The following phrases are also used with Direct Infinitive 'had better, had rather, would rather, would better, as soon, sooner than (prefer)'. For example—

- | | |
|--|--------------------------|
| (i) I would/had better leave your house at once. | |
| (ii) She would/had rather stay than leave now. | |
| (iii) They had sooner stay than leave. | |
| (iv) I would as soon stay at home as go. | (with equal willingness) |

(D) Direct Infinitive is used with, 'but, than, and, except, as, or'. For example—

- | | |
|---|---------------|
| (i) He did nothing but cry. | (correct) |
| (ii) She did no more than sleep the whole day. | (correct) |
| (iii) She had nothing to eat except to drink water. | (remove 'to') |
| (iv) Do you wish to watch TV or to go to bed early. | (remove to) |

(E) Direct infinitive is used with phrases, 'Why not & Why'. For example—

- | | |
|-------------------------|--------------|
| (i) Why not rest now ? | (Suggestion) |
| (ii) Why not stay here? | (Suggestion) |
| (iii) Why stay here? | (Question) |

(F) 'Have + object' (used in the sense of 'wish') is followed by direct infinitive. For example—

- | | |
|--|----------------------------|
| (i) I will have him believe it. | (I wish him to believe it) |
| (ii) She will have me recite this poem. | |

(G) 'Won't' + have + object + gerund (Used in the sense of won't allow). For example—

- | | |
|--|--|
| (i) I won't have you talking like that. | |
| (ii) I won't have you staying at Meerut. | |

Rule IV : Perfective Infinitive

(A) Perfect infinitive should be used if the action expressed by the infinitive precedes the action of the finite verb. For example—

- (i) Yesterday I intended to have gone to Delhi. (Incorrect, say 'to go')
 (ii) He admitted to have uttered these words against me. (Correct)

In the above sentence (ii) the action 'uttered' is prior to the action of the finite verb. Hence, the use of perfect infinitive is justified.

(B) The verbs where perfect infinitive may be, if needed, used.

'Deny, confess, admit, recollect, remember, recall, claim, regret, seem, appear, report, believe, understand, say, allege, suspect' learn, require, suppose etc
For example—

- (i) She denied to have seen him yesterday.
 (ii) He appears to have been rich earlier.
 (iii) I still remember to have met you in Shimla last year.
 (iv) He appears to be poor these days.

Note : (i) She denied seeing him yesterday. (Correct - as 'seeing' is an earlier action)
 (ii) She denied having seen him yesterday. (Correct)

Rule V

Use of infinitive after Adjective and Noun in active voice should be taken care of—

(A) Adjective—'enough' is used after adjective or 'very' before adjective when infinitive expresses affirmative meaning.

- 'too' is used before adjective when infinitive expresses negative meaning.
 (i) She is too ill to go out. (cannot go out)
 (ii) She is good enough to help me. (can help me)

(B) Noun—Preposition should be used, if required, after the infinitive when the infinitive qualifies the noun. For example—

- (i) These days no airlines is safe to travel. (Use 'by' after 'travel')
 (ii) I gave him a pen to write. (Use 'with' after 'write')
 (iii) He gave me a paper to read. (No preposition)
 (iv) I have no house to live. (Use 'in' after 'live')
 (v) I have no book to read. (No preposition)

Rule VI : Split Infinitive

'To' should not be separated from its verb by inserting any adverb between the two. The split infinitive is grammatically wrong. For example—

- (i) You are requested to kindly stay for sometime. (Use 'kindly' to stay)
 (ii) You are required at least to obey your parents. (Correct)
 (iii) I advised him to carefully carry the bag. (Say to 'carry carefully')
 (iv) The students were required to seriously study for examination. (Say 'to study seriously')

Rule VII : Continuous Infinitive

Continuous Infinitive can be used with the following verbs and Modal auxiliaries.

- (a) appear, seem, believe, consider, think, report, happen, arrange, hope, pretend, say etc.
- (b) may be, might be, should be, could be, must be etc.

Examples :

Malini appears to be running temperature.	It appears that.....
I happened to be sitting with my daughters.	When I was sitting.....
She is reported to be working at Chandigarh.	It is reported.....
She is said to be always cursing her fate.	It is said that.....
She pretended not to be overhearing our talk	She pretended as if.....
I hope to be living in a large house in a few years.	I hope that I shall.....
She may be coming tomorrow.	Perhaps will come
She may be sleeping now	Perhaps is sleeping
He thought she might be waiting for her.	Perhaps was waiting (deduction)
She could be going by car.	Perhaps (deduction)
She must be waiting for her husband.	(Advice)
You should be sleeping now instead of watching T.V.

II. Gerund (Verbal Noun)

Gerund is a verb form which functions as a noun. It is formed by adding 'ing' with a verb. It is used in place of Infinitive in certain cases. For example—

- (i) I do not believe in talking rubbish. (Preposition + gerund)
- (ii) I do not like riding. (Direct gerund)
- (iii) She is used to swimming. (To + gerund)
- (iv) Smoking is not good for health. (Subject)

Note : (1) Infinitives and gerunds are easily replaceable. However, certain rules have to be followed for replacing infinitives & gerunds by each other. For example—

- (i) I like to swim today. (At a particular time)
- (ii) I like swimming. (General/habitual statement)

(2) The difference between participle and gerund—

Gerund is a kind of noun like infinitive. Participle is a verb/adjective (an action in progress). For example—

- (i) I saw him smoking in the cinema hall. (Participle)
- (ii) Smoking is injurious to health. (Gerund)
- (iii) I am tired of working in this place. (Gerund)
- (iv) We found him working even after the sun had set. (Participle)
- (v) He was punished for playing carelessly. (Gerund, showing 'reason')
- (vi) They were seen playing. (Participle)
- (vii) Riding he fell off the horse. (Participle)

- (viii) I prefer swimming to riding.
 (ix) My plants need trimming.
 (x) Barking dogs seldom bite.

(Gerund)

(To be trimmed)

(Participle)

Note : The verbs, 'need, require, want', are followed by gerund in place of passive voice infinitive.

Rules of Gerund

Rule I : Preposition + Gerund

Gerund is used after certain verbs/phrases that are followed by appropriate prepositions instead of 'to'.

In case of for + gerund refer to rule II on Infinitives.

Let us study a few of them—

desirous of	intent on	justified in disqualify from	bent on	hesitate in refrain from	keen on	a hope of prevent from	aim at	hope to (infinitive)
debar from	confident of	fortunate in desist from	confidence in	harm in restrain from	insist on	assist in prohibit from	persist in	a chance of dissuade from	succeed in	fond of abstain from	successful in	take/feel pleasure in point in	sense in	give pleasure to (infinitive)
deter from	interested in

For example—

- (i) I prohibited him to go there.
 (ii) She is bent to harm her friend.
 (iii) She is confident to get success.
 (iv) She insisted to pay money to her mother.

(Use 'from going' in place of 'to go')

(Use 'on harming' in place of 'to harm')

(Use 'of getting' in place of 'to get')

(Use 'on paying' in place of 'to pay')

Rule II : Direct Gerund

(A) The following phrases and certain verbs are followed by direct gerund.

'Avoid, mind, detest, can't help, can't bear, resist, enjoy, resent, stop, start, postpone, defer, worth, prefer, consider, practise, finish, risk, pardon, excuse, forgive, it is no use/good, propose, miss, imagine, regret, means, anticipate, love, like, hate, dislike.'

(B) Phrasal verbs are also followed by direct gerunds such as—

'give up, put off, set about', etc. For example—

- (i) We stopped to write.
 (ii) He has given up to play hockey.

(Say 'writing' for 'to write')

(Say 'playing')

- (iii) She enjoyed to ride on the hills. (Use 'riding' in place of 'to ride')
- (iv) You should avoid to spend extra money. (Use 'spending' in place of 'to spend')
- (v) She cannot help to tell a lie. (Use 'telling' in place of 'to tell')
- (vi) Suhani does not mind helping me. (Correct)
- (vii) It is no use/good waiting for her. (Correct)
- (viii) There is no use/good of spending on luxuries. (Correct)

Note—Sentence (v) can also be written as 'She cannot help but tell a lie.' (but tell = telling)

Rule III : To + Gerund

Note the use of gerund correctly with—

'be used to, accustomed to, averse to, with a view to, addicted to, devoted to, in addition to, look forward to, object to, owing to, given to, taken to, disposed to, prone to. For example—

- (i) He is addicted to smoke heavily. (Use 'smoking' for 'smoke')
- (ii) We go there with a view to study Science. (Use 'studying' for 'study')
- (iii) He is used to getting up early in the morning. (Correct)
- (iv) She used to dance before her marriage. (Correct habit in the past)

Rule IV

The noun or pronoun before a Gerund (verbal noun) should be in the possessive case.

For example—

- (i) I don't like him wasting time. (Use 'his' for 'him')
- (ii) Geeta insisted on Rohan going with her. (Say 'Rohan's' for 'Rohan')
- (iii) I saw him wasting time. ('him' is correct 'wasting' is participle.)

III. Participle

Participle is the form of a verb that ends with ing, ed, en, t.

(A) It is used both as a verb (progressive) and an adjective.

Present	Past	Past Participle	Present Participle	Perfect Participle
Burn	burnt	burnt	burning	having burnt

For example—

- (i) We found a candle burning. (Verb, Present Participle)
- (ii) A burning candle was extinguished. (Adjective, Present Participle)
- (iii) A burnt paper was discovered. (Adjective, Past Participle)
- (iv) She returned disappointed. (Past Participle)
- (v) Having taken food she left for office. (Perfect Participle)

(B) Past participle is used as passive voice of present participles. It is also used to make perfect participles.
A burning candle	— That is burning. (Adjective)
A burnt paper	— That is burnt. (Adjective)
Having burnt paper	— After burning paper. (Verb)
Having been burnt	— Passive voice. (Verb)

Rules of Participles

Rule I

Participle Clause/Absolute Phrase (Nominative Absolute)

A participle is used as participle clause. It is a kind of clause containing participle in place of a finite verb.

Absolute Phrase/Nominative Absolute is a kind of participle with a Noun/Pronoun going before it.

- (i) Walking in the garden I came across an old friend.
(Present Participle, Active voice)
- (ii) Surprised at the news I rushed to the airport.
(Past Participle, Passive voice)
- (iii) Having taken food I left for office.
(Perfect Participle, Active voice)
- (iv) Having been arrested the thief was taken to prison.
(Perfect Participle, Passive voice)
- (v) The Sun having risen, we left the town.
(Absolute Phrase)

Rule II

Participles can be changed into following clauses :

- | | |
|-----------------------------|--------------------------------|
| (a) Adverb Clause of Time | (b) Adverb Clause of Condition |
| (c) Adverb Clause of Reason | (d) Adverb Clause of Contrast |
| (e) Adjective Clause | (f) Co-ordinate Clause |

(a) Adverb Clause of Time (while, having, on)

- (i) As I was wandering in the street, I met my old friend.
(While) wandering in the street I met my old friend.
- (ii) After I had passed High school, I got a job.
Having passed High school I got a job.
- (iii) When she saw me, she called me.
(On) seeing me she called me.

(b) Adverb Clause of Condition (by, without, but for)

- (i) If you go out, you will catch cold.
By going out you will catch cold.
- (ii) If you don't work hard, you will not pass.
Without working hard you will not pass.
- (iii) If you had not worked hard, you would have failed.
But for working hard you would have failed.

(c) Adverb Clause of Reason (owing to, because of, on account of)

- (i) As she ran very fast, she was able to overtake me.
On account of running very fast she was able to overtake me.
- (ii) Since she was late, she was punished.
Being late she was punished.

(d) Adverb Clause of Contrast (In spite of, despite, notwithstanding, for all)

- (i) Although she came late, she was not punished.
In spite of coming late she was not punished.
- (ii) Though she is rich, she is not happy.
Despite being rich she is not happy.
- (iii) Though she was punished, she did not feel sorry.
In spite of being punished she did not feel sorry.

(e) Adjective Clause

- (i) I saw a girl who was singing a song.
I saw a girl singing a song.
- (ii) The students who are studying English here will be successful.
The students studying English here will be successful.
- (iii) The book which was presented to me by my mother is very interesting.
The book presented to me by my mother is very interesting.
- (iv) A burning candle fell off the table.
A candle that was burning fell off the table.

(f) Co-ordinate Clause

A participle can replace a co-ordinate clause—

- (i) He returned and he was smiling.
He returned smiling.
- (ii) She went out and she was disappointed.
She went out disappointed.

Rule III

Present participle should be used only to express an action which coincides with the action of the finite verb.

He left for Mumbai on Monday, reaching there on Tuesday. (Incorrect, 'reaching' is not a simultaneous action)

He left for Mumbai on Monday and reached there on Tuesday. (Correct)

Rule IV : Misrelated/Unrelated Participles

When the participle clause/phrase is not followed by a subject of its own, the participle is called misrelated, dangling or unattached.

- | | |
|--|-----------|
| (i) Wandering in the street a dog bit him. | (Wrong) |
| (ii) Wandering in the street he was bitten by a dog. | (Correct) |

Note : 'wandering' should have a proper subject 'he' and not 'a dog'.

How to Correct a Misrelated Participle?

Misrelated participle can be corrected in three ways.

1. Expand the participle into a clause. (Already explained in Rule II)
2. Bring the proper subject immediately after the participle. (by changing voice)
3. Place the proper subject before the participle. (only before 'being' and 'having')

Let us study the problem by working out some questions.

1. Walking along the road a scooter knocked him down. (Incorrect)
 - (i) While he was walking along the road a scooter knocked him down. (Correct)
 - (ii) Walking along the road he was knocked down by a scooter. (Correct)
2. Having taken food my father sent me to market. (Incorrect)
 - (i) When I had taken food, my father sent me to market. (Correct)
 - (ii) I having taken food my father sent me to market. (Absolute Phrase)
 - (iii) Having taken food I was sent to market by my father. (Correct)
3. Being cloudy we enjoyed picnic. (Incorrect)
 - (i) As it was cloudy, we enjoyed picnic. (Correct)
 - (ii) It being cloudy we enjoyed picnic. (Absolute Phrase)
4. Being honest the teacher rewarded him. (Incorrect)
 - (i) As he was honest, the teacher rewarded him. (Correct)
 - (ii) He being honest, the teacher rewarded him. (Correct)
 - (iii) Being honest he was rewarded by the teacher. (Correct)
5. Possessing huge wealth people do not like him. (Incorrect)
 - (i) Although he possesses huge wealth, people do not like him. (Correct)
 - (ii) Possessing huge wealth he is not liked by people. (Correct)

Rule V

However, participles such as—

'regarding, concerning, considering, speaking', do not refer to any particular subject. They can do without agreement with any noun or pronoun.

- (i) Considering his problems he was advised to leave Jalgaon. (Correct)
- (ii) Roughly speaking two hundred persons died in the earthquake. (Correct)

In these sentences the unexpressed subject is indefinite. Therefore, participle need not be in agreement with the Noun or Pronoun it refers to.

Some Important Uses of Non-finites

Study the following sentences carefully & note the difference in their sense.

1. I regret being late/to be late. (Present Infinitive)
2. I regret to have been late/having been late. (Perfect Infinitive)

Chapter

Verb

What is a Verb?

A verb is a word that is used to tell something about a person or a thing as follows—

- (a) What a person or a thing does
 - (i) She teaches in our school.
 - (ii) He often visited his village.
- (b) What is done to a person or a thing.
 - (i) He was punished.
 - (ii) Shikha was taught a lesson.
- (c) What a person or a thing is
 - (i) She is a pretty village girl.
 - (ii) My brother is a Chemist.

There are two classes of verbs—

- (A) The auxiliary verbs
- (B) The ordinary/regular verbs

(A) The auxiliary verbs are of two types—

- I. Primary auxiliaries
 - (i) To be — is, are, am, was, were, been, being.
 - (ii) To have — has, have, had.
 - (iii) To do — do, does, did.

II. Modal auxiliaries — will, must, should, may etc.

(B) The ordinary verbs to work, to play, to write.

The Use of 'To Be'

(1) As an auxiliary verb.

- (i) She is writing a letter.
- (ii) Arjun was called back.

(Active)
(Passive)

(2) As an ordinary/regular verb.

- (i) She is a doctor.
- (ii) She was present.

(For further details look up the chapter on Voice.)

Kinds of Verbs

1. Finite verb
 2. Non-finite verbs
1. Finite verbs—Finite verb has a subject of its own and is limited by the person and the number of the subject. For example—
- (i) She is playing Tennis.
 - (ii) They were watching television.
- (a) Transitive verbs—Transit means 'to move'. The action of transitive verbs passes over to the object. For example—
- (i) She writes a letter.
 - (ii) She teaches me.
- (b) Intransitive verbs—The action of the intransitive verbs does not pass over to the object. It goes back to the subject. For example—
- (i) She cried a lot.
 - (ii) She came on time.

Note : Transitive verbs alone can be used in passive voice.

2. Non-finite verbs—Non-finite verbs are not limited by the person and the number of any subject. They are used without mentioning any subject.

Non-finite verbs are of three kinds.

- (a) Infinitive
- (b) Gerund
- (c) Participle

For example —

- (i) She comes here to study.
- (ii) We saw them waiting for the bus.
- (iii) She likes reciting poems.

Rules of Verbs

Rule I

When two or more subjects are joined by—"as well as, like, unlike, besides, in addition to, with, together with, along with, and not, rather than, no less than, except, nothing but, more (men) than one", the verb is used according to the first subject. For example—

- (i) The director as well as the dancers were honoured by the public.
(Use 'was' in place of 'were')
- (ii) The mother, and not her children have been arrested for committing theft.
(Use 'has' in place of 'have')
- (iii) More men than one were absent yesterday.
(Correct)
- (iv) Nothing but truth is immortal.
(Correct)
- (v) My mother no less than my father is strict.
(Correct)

Rule II

When two or more subjects are connected by 'not only-but also, neither-nor, either-or, none-but' the verb is according to the nearest subject. For example—

- (i) Neither the students nor their guide were found present in the common room.
(Use 'was' in place of 'were').
- (ii) None but the leaders of our country is responsible for this state of affairs.
(Use 'are' in place of 'is')
- (iii) One or two books are needed.
(Correct)
- (iv) I or he is to be rewarded.
(Correct)
- (v) Am I or he to be rewarded?
(Correct)

Rule III

- (a) 'Neither, either, none, anyone, each, every' used as pronoun or adjective should be followed by third person singular verbs. For example—
 - (i) Neither of the two boys have done it.
(Use 'has' in place of 'have')
 - (ii) Each of the students are obedient.
(Use 'is' in place of 'are')
 - (iii) Either of us has done his work.
(Correct)
 - (iv) Every boy and every girl has been invited.
(Correct)
- (b) When None is used with countable nouns both singular and plural verbs are correct. But with uncountable noun singular verb is correct.
 - (i) None of the boys has/have done home work.
(Correct)
 - (ii) None of the work is completed.
(Correct)
- (c) When 'each' is used after subject the verb is plural. For example—
 - (i) We each have taken our bags.
 - (ii) They each are honest.

Rule IV

When plural nouns explain specific 'amount, sum, distance, quantity, time, period' as a whole the verb should be singular. For example—

- (i) Four miles are not a long distance.
(Use 'is' in place of 'are')
- (ii) Two hundred rupees were a large amount fifty years ago.
(Use 'was' in place of 'were').
- (iii) Two hundred rupees were lost.
(Correct)

Rule V

The expression 'many a/an, more than one' should be followed by a singular noun and singular verb. For example—

- (i) Many accidents have recently taken place.
(Correct)
- (ii) Many an accidents have recently taken place.
(The correct usage is 'many an accident has')
- (iii) More than one man was absent.
(Correct)
- (iv) More men than one were burnt.
(Correct. Refer to Rule I)

Rule VI

In a compound sentence both main verbs and auxiliary verbs should be separated if they differ in number, form or voice. In such cases one verb cannot act for both the clauses. For example—

- (i) He has not and will not marry in near future. (Place 'has' after 'not')
- (ii) She is intelligent but her sister isn't. (Place 'is' after 'but')
- (iii) He surrendered before the court and went to jail. ('He' was before 'the')
- (iv) She disappeared last month and found dead near a well last night. (Place 'was' after 'last')
- (v) She is intelligent but her sister isn't. (Correct)
- (vi) I did not and will not go there. (Correct)

Rule VII

The inverted form of the verb is used in the following cases—

- (A) When the sentence is introduced by adverb.
- (B) When the verb is meant to express a wish or protest.

For example—

- (i) So quickly did she finish her work that we were surprised. (Correct)
- (ii) May you succeed in life. (Correct)
- (iii) Hardly scarcely had I reached the airport when the plane arrived. (Correct)
- (iv) No sooner did she arrive than she started laughing. (Correct)

Rule VIII

The verb in the following cases is used in singular form.

- (A) When two singular nouns refer to the same person denoted by one article.
- (B) In certain phrases or idiomatic pair of words suggesting the same meaning, though not synonymous. For example—

- (i) The Collector and District Magistrate are on a visit to the Tehsil today. (Use 'is' in place of 'are')
- (ii) What is the aim and object of his costly plan? (Correct)
- (iii) The sum and substance of the passage is given below. (Correct)
- (iv) Bread and butter are sold here. (Correct)
- (v) Bread and butter is difficult to earn. (Correct)
- (vi) Two and Two is are four. (makes four) (Correct)
- (vii) No student and no teacher was present. (Correct)
- (viii) Three fives are fifteen. (Correct)
- (ix) Five times ten is fifty. (Correct)
- (x) Slow and steady wins the race. (Correct)
- (xi) Time and tide wait for none. (Correct)

- (a) When the sentence begins with 'It' the verb is according to the subject 'It'.
 (b) In the case of a sentence beginning with 'there' and Interrogative pronoun, the verb is according to the predicate/complement.
 However verb should not be used according to complement in other than these cases. For example—
- (i) It is the stars that guide our destiny. (Correct)
 - (ii) It is I who am helping you. (Correct)
 - (iii) There was a boy in the classroom. (Correct)
 - (iv) There were a boy and a teacher in the classroom. (Correct)
 - (v) There lives a boy who is my best friend. (Correct)
 - (vi) What evidence are these acts? (Correct)
 - (vii) What have the boys thought about this plan? (Correct)

Rule X

- (A) A singular or a plural verb with the nouns in the following cases is used according to the sense which they convey.
- (a) Number
 - (b) Means, wages
 - (c) Variety, plenty, rest, deal of, a lot of (lots of), a heap of, Two thirds of, most of, some of, a half of, per cent of.

(a) Number

- 1. A large number of boys were absent on account of bad weather. (Correct)
- 2. The number of admissions have gradually fallen off. (Use 'has')

(b) Means, Wages

Rule XI : Unreal Past Subjunctive Mood

A wish, a regret, unlikely condition and contrary to fact statements are expressed in subjunctive mood.

- (A) In subjunctive mood (present situation) we may use 'was/were', though 'were' is more correct form. (Simple past plural)
- a. To express regret/wish for a present situation. (at the time of speaking)
 - (i) I wish I had a house of my own now = I am sorry I don't have a house.
 - (ii) I wish I were rich now = I am sorry I am not rich.
I wish = would that, I would, If only.

- b. To express unlikely condition. For example—
 - (i) If I had a house, I would not hire yours.
 - (ii) If I were a teacher, I would help you.

c. As if/as though

The subjunctive can be used in a clause beginning with 'as if/as though' to express a statement contrary to the fact. For example—
She behaves as if she were the landlady.

- (B) After 'It is high time' For example—

It is high time you did something now. (In the sense of 'should')

- (C) After 'would rather/had rather' + Clause

These phrases are followed by a clause in a subjunctive mood. Otherwise direct infinitive is used. For example—

- (i) I would rather you helped my brother.
- (ii) I had rather you stayed with me.
- (iii) I would rather go to Mumbai.

(Say 'would stay')
(Direct Infinitive)

- (D) In subjunctive mood referring to Past situation use Past Perfect Tense. For example—

- (i) I wish I had had a gun then. (Past situation)
- (ii) I wish I had a gun now. (Present situation)
- (iii) I wish I had not met her last year. (Regret for a past situation)

Rule XII

The use of causative verbs. (Make, Get, Have Cause)—

- (i) I made my friend write a letter.
- (ii) My friend was made to write a letter.
- (iii) He got his house painted by expert painters.
- (iv) He had a house demolished.

Note : In sentence (i) the causative verb 'make' is followed by direct infinitive 'write'. In sentence (ii) 'make' is followed by 'to write' because it is in passive voice.

But we can say 'They caused him to leave India'.

[Refer to Rule II (b) on Non-finite verbs.]

Rule XIII

When negative ideas are introduced in a noun clause with the following verbs in principal clause, it is advisable to make principal clause in negative.

'imagine, think, believe, suppose'.

Note—This rule doesn't apply to 'I hope'. For example—

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|-------------|

| I think he will not pass. | (Incorrect) |
| (ii) I don't suppose she will pass. | (Correct) |
| I suppose she will not pass. | (Incorrect) |

Rule XIV

The position of verb in the clause beginning with 'As' and 'Than', when the subject is hidden. For example—

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------|
| (i) The guests came on time as were hoped . | [say, (it) was hoped] |
| (ii) The guests came more in number than was expected . | [say, (they) were expected] |

Chapter

Articles

What is an Article?

Articles are very important words in English and so is their knowledge. Articles are used before only nouns to limit or define their (Nouns) uses in the context of the sentence. They impart effectiveness and accuracy to the nouns. In fact, articles are used as demonstrative adjectives and determiners before nouns.

There are two kinds of articles.

- (I) Indefinite Articles —A, An (in the sense of 'one' and 'any')
 - (II) Definite Articles—The (in the sense of 'this' and 'that')

Rules of Articles

The Use of Indefinite Articles 'A', 'An'

Rule I

A student must note that the choice between 'A' and 'An' is determined primarily by SOUND.

Rule 11

(C) Indefinite article 'A / An' is used when we talk of a thing or a person that is indefinite or that is mentioned for the first time. (in the sense of 'one')

(D) Indefinite article is also used to express a class (in the sense of 'any') [Rule III (B)]

(A) Before a singular countable common noun when it is mentioned for the first time representing no particular person or a thing e.g.,

(i) I need a book. (one)

(ii) Twelve inches make a foot. (one)

(iii) A beggar came to my door. (one)

(iv) Please get me a soccer. (one)

(v) She gave her a note book. (one)

(B) Before a singular countable noun which is used to single out some person something as a representative of a class of things, animals and persons. [Rule III (C)] e.g.,

(i) A cow is a useful animal. (any in the sense of class)

(ii) A beggar cannot be a chooser. (any in the sense of class)

(iii) A rose is a beautiful flower. (any in the sense of class)

(iv) A son should be obedient. (any in the sense of class)

(C) To make a common noun of a proper noun to express quality.

(i) A Shylock is living in my neighbourhood. (a cruel miser)

(ii) He is a Vikramaditya known for his fairness. (a just man)

[Refer to Rule III (H)]

(D) In certain expressions of quantity with certain numbers and expressions of 'Price, rate, speed, ratio'. e.g.,

(i) Rupees ten a kilo.

(ii) A dozen mangoes.

(iii) Half a dozen.

[Refer to Rule III (L)]

(E) When 'A / An' represents a weakened form of preposition 'in'. e.g.,

(i) He earns fifty thousand rupees a year.

(ii) We should brush our teeth two times a day.

(F) In exclamations with 'what' or 'how' before singular countable nouns. e.g.,

(i) What a hot day!

(ii) What a pretty girl!

(iii) What a naughty child!

(iv) How fine a day!

(v) What a fool he is.

(vi) What kind of a teacher.

(vii) What fool will believe it? [Correct (Interrogative)]

* But we don't say 'What a kind of'.

(G) Note the position of indefinite article in the following adverbs :

'Rather, very, much, quite, so, too, such, as' e.g.,

(i) It is rather a nuisance.

(ii) It is rather a good step (or a rather good step).

- (iii) He is a very good person.
 - (iv) He is a much hated character.
 - (v) He is such a nice man that everybody likes him.
 - (vi) It is quite an interesting story.
 - (vii) She is as intelligent a student as her brother is.
 - (viii) She is too weak a student to pass.
 - (ix) She is so weak a student that she can't pass.
- (H) Before a person not known to the speaker, e.g.,
- (i) A Mr. Gupta = Some Mr. Gupta
 - (ii) A Mrs. Sharma = Some Mrs. Sharma
- (I) Before the verbs used as nouns, e.g.,
- | | |
|--------------------|--------------------|

| (iii) For a visit | (iv) For a walk |
| (v) For a drive | (vi) For a rest |
| (vii) Have a taste | (viii) Have a mind |
| (ix) Have a pain | |
- (J) Before certain phrases, e.g.,
- | | |
|---------------------|-------------------|
| (i) In a hurry | (ii) A pity |
| (iii) Take a liking | (iv) Feel a shame |
| (v) Take a fancy | (vi) Make a noise |
| (vii) Tell a lie. | |
- (K) Before the words denoting numbers, e.g.,
- | | |
|-----------------|--------------|
| (i) A hundred | (ii) A dozen |
| (iii) A million | |
- (L) Before the adjectives 'little' and 'few' to give the sense of 'some'
- (Rule V on Adjectives)
- A little— some (Quantity)
A few — some (Number)
- (i) I have little money to buy a house. (hardly any)
 - (ii) Please give me a little sugar. (some)
 - (iii) He has spent the little money that he had. (some but all)
 - (iv) There are few boys in the class. (hardly anyone)
 - (v) I met a few students in the university. (some)
 - (vi) The few students that were in the class were sitting idle. (some but all)
- (M) There is no plural of 'a', 'an'. 'Some' or 'Any' is the equivalent of the plural.
- | | |
|-----------|--------------------------|
| A horse | some horses/any horses |
| An orange | some oranges/any oranges |

The Use of Definite Article 'The'

Rule III

- (A) When we talk of a particular person or a thing as already mentioned, known ^{of} under discussion, eg,
- (i) The book (which you mentioned) is not available in the market.
 - (ii) Let us study the lesson carefully. (lesson in hand)

- (i) I gave him two hundreds rupees. (Omit 's' in 'hundreds')
- (ii) I gave him five dozens pencils. (Omit 's' in 'dozens')
- (iii) There are hundreds of partially built houses. (Correct)

Rule IX

Use of Apostrophe with 's'—

(A) The use of apostrophe with 's' is not correct in the case of non-living things. It is restricted only to living things, time, weight, distance, amount or personified nouns.

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| (i) The table's wood. (Incorrect) | (ii) Boy's hand. |
| (iii) Time's march. | (iv) A one-kilometre's journey. |
| (v) A rupee's worth. | (vi) A night's journey. |
| (vii) A metre's length. | (viii) Nature's laws. |
| (ix) A week's holiday. | |

(B) Two nouns in the possessive case denote plural form. When apostrophe with 's' is used with one noun, it expresses singular form. e.g.,

- | | |
|--|---------------------------------------|
| (i) Sheela and Rohit's father. | (the father of both Sheela and Rohit) |
| (ii) Sheela's and Rohit's fathers are meeting today. | (fathers of Sheela and Rohit) |

|-------------------------------|
| (i) Mother-in-law's behaviour |
| (ii) Maid-servant's absence. |

(D) Pronouns are written by omitting apostrophe but 's' is added. e.g.,

- | | |
|------------------|-------------------|
| (i) Yours truly. | (ii) Its colour |
| (iii) Hers | (iv) It's (It is) |

(E) Possessive case is indicated by apostrophe without 's' after Plural nouns or words ending with 's'.

- | | |
|------------------------|---------------------|
| (i) John Keats' poems. | (ii) Girls' Hostel. |
| (iii) Dickens' novels. | (iv) Jesus' sake. |
| (v) Kalidas' works. | |

(F) (a) 'Else' combined with indefinite pronouns (somebody, any body, nobody etc.) is expressed in possessive case as somebody else's in place of somebody's else.

(b) The correct expression 'whose else' should be used in place of the wrong expression 'who else's'. However 'who else' is correct.

- | | |
|--|---|
| (i) This is not my book. This is somebody's else | (Say somebody else's) |
| (ii) Who else is coming? | (Correct) |
| (iii) Who else's book is this? | (Use 'whose else' in place of 'who else's') |

Note : 'Who' should be converted into possessive 'whose'. So 'whose else' is correct.

Rule X

Two adjectives denoting different meanings and qualifying the same noun are considered plural and are used with plural verbs. e.g.,

Pronoun

What is a Pronoun?

Pronoun is a word used in place of a noun in order to avoid repetition of the latter.

Kinds of Pronoun

1. Personal Pronouns—Words used in place of nouns referring to persons.

'I, we, you, he, she, it, they' etc.

The Case of Personal Pronouns		Subject	Object	Possessive Adjectives	Possessive Pronouns
Singular	First Person	I	me	my	mine
Plural		We	us	our	ours
	Second Person	You	you	your	yours
Singular		She	her	her	hers
	Third Person	He	him	his	his
		It	it	its	—
Plural		They	them	their	theirs

2. Demonstrative Pronouns—Words used for nouns to point out objects.

'This, that, these, those' etc.

(i) This is my book. (ii) That is her house.

But in the following examples 'This' and 'That' are used as demonstrative adjectives.

(i) This book (ii) That house

3. Relative Pronouns—Words used for nouns to express functions relating to 'who, which, that, whose, whom' etc.

(i) The man who has just entered the room is my friend.

(ii) The book that I bought is very costly.

4. Interrogative Pronouns—Words used for nouns to ask questions.

Who? What? Which? Whose? Whom?

(i) Who took my bag?

(ii) Whom did you meet?

(iii) Whose books are these?

(iv) What are you doing?

(v) What shirt is this?

(vi) Whose book is this?

- (i) Both the brothers love each other.
 - (ii) Indians should not fight with one another.

Rules of Pronoun

Rule I

When the subject of the verb is the receiver of the action, the action is said to be reflected. Such verbs are used reflexively.

'Acquit, absent, avail, reconcile, amuse, resign, avenge, revenge, enjoy, exert, apply, adapt, adjust, pride' overreach, etc, are used reflexively. e.g.,

- (i) You should avail yourself, of every chance in life. (Correct)
- (ii) They enjoyed picture last evening. (No reflexive pronoun is needed)
- (iii) They enjoyed during summer vacation. (Place 'themselves' after 'enjoyed')
- (iv) He resigned himself to his failure. (Correct)
- (v) The former D.M. acquitted very efficiently. (Place 'himself' after 'acquitted').
- (vi) He was determined to avenge the death of his wife. (Correct)

Rule II

The following verbs are not used reflexively.

'Keep, stop, turn, qualify, bathe, move, rest, hide' are not used reflexively. e.g.,

- (i) You should keep yourself from bad boys. (Drop 'yourself')
- (ii) He has qualified himself for the post. (Drop 'himself')
- (iii) He hid himself in the room. (Drop 'himself') (Int. verb)
- (iv) The thief hid money under the carpet. (Correct) (Tran. Verb)

Rule III

A reflexive pronoun cannot act as a subject or object of a verb unless it is preceded by pronoun or noun concerned. e.g.,

- (i) Between you and I Suhani is intelligent. (Say 'me')
- (ii) She is teaching Rohit and 'she'. (Say 'her')
- (iii) Let they go. (Say 'them')

Rule VI

(a) Good manners require that the order of singular pronouns should be second person, third person and first person (231).

(b) But in plural 'we' is used before 'you' and 'they' after 'you' (123). The latter order is also observed while referring to unpleasant acts. e.g.,

- (i) I and you will attend her wedding tomorrow. (Correct use is 'You' and 'I')
- (ii) He and you will share the mangoes. (Use 'You' and 'he')
- (iii) You, Mohan and I will watch movie tonight. (Correct)
- (iv) We, you and they are leaving for Mumbai tomorrow. (Correct)
- (v) You and I will be punished. (Unpleasant act, use 'I and you')

Rule VII

Use of possessive adjectives (Possessive case of the pronoun)

(A) When two subjects are joined by—

'As well as, together with, along with, and not, in addition to, like, unlike, with' rather than, except, no less than, nothing but, more (noun) than one, the possessive case of the pronoun (possessive adjective) is used in accordance with the first subject.

(B) When two subjects are joined by—

'Either-or, neither-nor, not only-but also, none-but.'

the possessive case of pronoun (possessive adjective) is used according to the nearest subject.

(C) When the pronouns

'Each, every, neither, either, anyone' many a, more than one (possessive adjective) are used as subject, the possessive case should be third person singular. They may refer to two or more than two objects or persons.

- (D) When 'one' is used as a subject, the possessive case of the pronoun should be according to one. (i.e. one's)
- (E) When a pronoun is used for more than one noun or pronouns of different persons, the possessive case is in the form of first person plural (our) and second person plural (your). e.g.,
- Each boy and each teacher is required to bring their luggage.
(Use 'his' in place of 'their')
 - One should do his duty sincerely.
(Use 'one's' in place of 'his')

(Use 'his' for 'our')
 - Every one should do one's duty.
(Use 'his' for 'one's')
 - My sister along with her friends is doing her job at Delhi.
(Correct)

Rule VIII

A noun or pronoun in the possessive case should not be used sometimes with the nouns such as—

'Separation, leave, excuse, mention, report, pardon, sight, favour.' e.g.,

- Your separation is very painful to me.
(Say 'separation from you')
- At his sight the robbers fled.
(Say 'At the sight of him')
- I beg your favour, please.
(favour of/from you)
- She did make mention of you.
(Correct, 'your mention' is wrong.)

Rule IX

'Either, neither, each other'

are used in speaking of two persons or things. e.g.,

'Anyone, none, one another'

are used while referring to more than two persons or things. e.g.,

- Indians should never fight with each other. (Use 'one another' in place of 'each other')
- Anyone of his eyes is defective.
(Use 'either' in place of 'anyone')
- None of his arms was wounded in the accident.
(Use 'neither' for 'none')
- Either of his four sons has sold his property after his death.
(Use 'anyone' for 'Either')

Rule X

While writing question tag the subject and verb must be according to the main sentence. e.g.,

- | | |
|--|------------------------|
| (i) Our teacher is intelligent, isn't it? | (Use 'isn't he?') |
| (ii) The boys are not going on picnic, are they? | (Correct) |
| (iii) They went to Delhi yesterday, isn't it? | (Use 'didn't they?') |
| (iv) She comes here daily, does she? | (Use 'doesn't she?') |
| (v) She will help me, won't she? | (Correct) |
| (vi) I shall not play Shan't I? | (Amn't is not correct) |
| (vii) Shall not play, | (Correct) |

| (xxv) One of/most of/all of us shall go there, shan't we? | (Correct) |
| (xxvi) One of/most of/all of them will go there, won't they? | (Correct) |

Note : (i) The negative statements having words such as 'hardly, seldom, barely, scarcely', few, little are followed by ordinary question tag. (Affirmative)
(ii) With 'everybody, everyone, somebody, someone, nobody, no one, anybody, none, neither, either'. 'They' is used in question tag.

Rule XI : Use of Both

'Both' should be followed by 'and' and not by 'as well as',

Negative is avoided with Both e.g.

- | | |
|---|--------------------------------------|
| (i) Both you as well as my brother are going to attend her marriage tomorrow. | (Use 'and' in place of 'as well as') |
| (ii) Both of them are not going there. | (Incorrect) |
| Neither of them is going there. | (Correct) |

Rule XII

'Which' is used in place of 'Who' when we are referring to a choice between two or more than two things or persons. e.g.,

- (i) Of the two sisters who is the more intelligent. (Use 'which' in place of 'who')
- (ii) Who is your father in the crowd? (Use 'which' in place of 'who')
- (iii) Who is better of the two dancers in our society?
(Place 'the' before better and change 'who' into 'which')

Rule XIII

Possessive case—We don't use noun after possessive case of a pronoun. e.g.,

- (i) This book is mine = This is my book.
- (ii) This shirt is yours = This is your shirt.
- (iii) Our is a populous country. (Say 'Ours')

Rule XIV

The relative pronoun should be expressed according to its relation with the verb of the adjective clause. 'Who' is used as a subject of a verb of adjective clause and 'whom' is used as an object of a verb of adjective clause. e.g.,

- (i) He was talking of the women who, he said, he met in America.
(Use 'whom' in place of 'who')
- (ii) She is the kind of lady whom, every body knows, is intelligent.
(Use 'who' in place of 'whom')

Rule XV

The use of 'But' as a relative pronoun. e.g.,

- (i) There was none but wept. (Who did not weep)
- (ii) There is no country but is corrupt. (Which is not corrupt)

Rule XVI

The use of the 'same' as pronoun is wrong. e.g.,

- (i) I shall give you a book and the same is very useful. (Say 'it' for the 'same')
- (ii) He bought a house and is living in the same. (Say 'it' for the 'same')

Rule XVII

'What' is used without an antecedent and it refers to things only. e.g.,

- (i) It is incredible what she said.
- (ii) I don't believe in the words what she uttered.

(Use 'which'/'that' in place of 'what')

- (iii) I don't believe in what you say. (Correct)
- (iv) I know which you say. (Say 'what')

Adjective

What is an Adjective?

Adjective is a word that tells us about or add to the meaning of a noun. e.g.,

- (i) She is a kind lady.
- (ii) I like this pen.
- (iii) She lives in a large house.
- (iv) He is a strong player.

There are following two classes of adjectives :

- (i) Descriptive adjective
- (ii) Determiner adjective

Descriptive adjective denote the quality, size, colour, shape etc. of a noun.

Position of Adjectives—Descriptive adjectives are used both attributively and predicatively while Determiner adjectives are used only before the noun.

She is an honest girl.

(Attributive use)

The girl is honest.

(Predicative use)

Kinds of Adjectives

A. Descriptive Adjectives

Adjective of Quality

— Ugly, heavy, dry, good, red.

B. Determiner Adjectives

- (i) Demonstrative Adjectives
- (ii) Distributive Adjectives
- (iii) Quantitative Adjectives

A. An. The (See Chapter on Articles)

Distinction between Adjectives and Pronouns

(i) Demonstrative Adjectives and Demonstrative Pronouns—

- (i) Please get me that book. (Adjective)
- (ii) That is my book. (Pronoun)

(ii) Possessive Adjectives and Possessive Pronouns—

- (i) This is my book. (Adjective)
- (ii) This book is mine. (Pronoun)
- (iii) It is her vanity box. (Adjective)
- (iv) This vanity box is hers. (Pronoun)

(iii) Distributive Adjectives and Distributive Pronouns—

- (i) Either boy has stolen my book. (Adjective)
- (ii) Neither book will serve my purpose. (Adjective)
- (iii) I do not like either of the sisters. (Pronoun)
- (iv) We bought neither of the bikes. (Pronoun)

Note : Every is only adjective, and it cannot be used as determiner. But each can be used both as adjective and pronoun.

- (v) Every boy was present. (Adjective)
- (vi) Each boy was present. (Adjective)
- (vii) Each of the boys will come. (Pronoun)
- (viii) Everyone of them is wasting money. (Pronoun)

Rules of Adjective

Rule I

Generally speaking adjective is used when the quality of a noun and pronoun rather than the action of a verb is expressed.

Adverb is used to modify the action of a verb, an adjective, an adverb. e.g.

- | | |
|----------------------------------|-----------|
| (i) She is a skilful dancer. | (quality) |
| (ii) She dances skilfully. | (action) |
| (iii) Sonu's act was thoughtful. | (quality) |
| (iv) Sonu acted thoughtfully. | (action) |

Rule II

The verbs given below are linking verbs—

Some verbs are not modified by adverbs. Be, become, seem, appear, taste, smell, sound, feel, turn, get, grow, keep, look, make, prove, etc.

- (i) Her voice sounds harsh.
- (ii) She appears sad.

- (iii) I feel sick.
- (iv) She has grown wise.
- (v) Mona is smart.

Note : The distinction between the following sentences—

- | | |
|---|------------------------------------|
| 1. (a) She looked calm and quiet. | (Linking verb, etc.) |
| (b) She looked at her angry husband calmly and quietly. | (In a calm and quiet manner, etc.) |
| 2. (a) The mangoes taste sweetly. | (Use 'sweet' etc.) |
| (b) She talks sweetly. | (Cutesy) |

Rule III

There are some adjectives which don't admit of any comparative and superlative degree. Such adjectives denote absolute position.

'Perfect, unique, ideal, chief, universal, extreme, complete, entire, excellent, absolute, impossible, eternal, supreme' etc. e.g.,

- (i) I have never seen a more complete book on General Studies. (Drop 'more')
- (ii) Happiness is the chiefest aim of mankind. (Use 'chief')
- (iii) How can divided India become the most supreme power? (Remove 'the most')

Rule IV

The comparative adjectives such as—

'Prior, junior, senior, superior, inferior, prefer (verb), preferable, elder' etc. are followed by 'to' instead of 'than'.

Nor are they used in comparative degree.

- (i) He is senior than me in service. (Use 'to' in place of 'than')
- (ii) Lemon juice is preferable than tea. (Use 'to' in place of 'than')
- (iii) My sister is elder than me by two years. (Use 'to' in place of 'than')
- (iv) She prefers coffee rather than tea. ('rather than' in place of 'to' is correct.)
- (v) She is comparatively smarter than her husband. (Use smart)
- (vi) She is more senior to her boss in service. (Remove 'more')
- (vii) Milk is more preferable to tea. (Remove 'more')

Note : 'Rather than' may be used for 'to' after 'prefer'. (iv)

Rule V

Note carefully the distinction among the following adjectives :

Little is used for quantity.
(little, less, least)

Little means hardly any.
(negative sense)

A little means not much (some).
(Affirmative meaning)

The little means not much but all.

Few is used for number.
(few, fewer, fewest)

Few means hardly anyone/anything.
(negative sense)

A few means not many (some).
(Affirmative meaning)

The few means not many but all.

Some is used in affirmative and while making request in interrogative.

Some is used as an adjective.
Somewhat is used as an adverb.

Farther means more distant.
(Far, farther, farthest)

Other means the second of the two.

Older/Oldest is used for persons (not blood relation) and things.
(Old, older, oldest)
It refers both to age and time.

Later is the opposite of earlier.
(Refers to time)

Latest means recent, last up to now only.
(Late, later, latest) [time]

Any is used for negative and interrogative sentences and in the sense of every (No any/Not any are wrong expressions.)
if any

Further means additional.

Another means additional one. (More)

Elder/Eldest is used for persons only in the case of blood relations.
(Old, elder, eldest)
It refers to age only.

Latter is the opposite of former.
(Refers to position)

Last means last of all.
(Late, latter, last) (Position)

Note : Little and few Cannot qualify the words 'quantity' and 'Number' Small is used to qualify these words.

Now study these sentences—

- (i) Little common sense can bring success to you. (Use 'a little')
- (ii) Little that she did for me is unforgettable. (Use 'The' before 'little')
- (iii) Little knowledge is a dangerous thing. (Use 'a' before 'little')
- (iv) I requested him to bring me few books. (Use 'a few')
- (v) Few days I passed in her company were exciting. (Use 'The few')
- (vi) There are less passengers in the compartment today. (Use 'fewer')
- (vii) There are five students less in the class. (Correct)
- (viii) I have ten rupees less to pay. (Correct)
- (ix) Could you please give me some money? (Use 'any' in place of 'some')
- (x) Have you brought some gold for her? (use the before little)
- (xi) Little Money you are earning should not be wasted (Use 'somewhat' in place of 'some')
- (xii) She was some angry. (say 'some anger')
- (xiii) She expressed somewhat anger. (Drop 'any')
- (xiv) I have no any money in my pocket.
- (xv) Moradabad is further from Delhi than Meerut. (Use 'farther' in place of 'further')
- (xvi) No farther help from government is required. (Use 'further' in place of 'farther')
- (xvii) I am still thirsty, please give me other glass of water. (Say 'another' in place of 'other')
- (xviii) My oldest sister is living in Chicago these days. (Use 'eldest' in place of 'oldest')
- (xix) My sister is elder to me. (Correct)
- (xx) My friend is older than I. (Correct)

- (xxi) She came latter than I. (Use 'later' for time)
- (xxii) Reena and Heena are two sisters but the later is more intelligent than the former. (Use 'latter' for position)
- (xxiii) Jeans are the last rage of young generation. (Use 'latest' in place of 'last')

Note : In sentence (vii) & (viii) 'less' has been used in place of 'few' (number) because 'definite numerical adjectives + plural nouns' are followed by 'less'.

Rule VI

When two adjectives qualify the same noun, both the adjectives should be expressed in the same degree. e.g.,

- (i) She is the most active and energetic social worker in our club. (Use 'most' before 'energetic')
- (ii) She is both cleverer and intelligent than her sister. (Use 'more' before 'intelligent')

Rule VII

Ordinal is placed before numerical adjective. eg,

- (i) You must study the two first chapters of the book. (Use 'the first two')
- (ii) The two or last three lessons of your book are worth reading. (Use 'The last two or three')

Rule VIII

The comparative adjectives ending in 'er' (i.e. cleverer) should be used as 'more clever' while comparing the two qualities of one and the same thing or a person. e.g.,

- (i) She is cleverer than honest. (Use 'more clever')
- (ii) She is more clever than her sister. (Use 'cleverer' in place of 'more clever')

Rule IX

The expression 'these' and 'those' should not be used with the singular nouns 'kind' 'type' and 'sort'. e.g.,

- (i) I will not do these kind/sort of acts. (Use 'this kind/sort' for 'these kind/sort')
- (ii) This type of articles are not allowed into the hall. (Use 'is' for 'are')

Rule X

Note carefully the use of 'other & else' in comparative and superlative degrees. e.g.,

- (i) She is a best teacher. (Use 'a very good teacher')
- (ii) She is the most intelligent person. (Use 'a most' in the sense of very)
- (iii) My brother is the smartest player of all others in the team. (Remove 'others')
- (iv) She is better than anybody in the class. (Use 'anybody else')
- (v) The Ganga is more sacred than any river of India. (Use 'other' after 'any')
- (vi) He is the most corrupt politician than anybody in the country. (Use 'of all' in place of 'than anybody')

- (vii) This novel is the most interesting of any in the library. (Use 'of all' in place of 'of any')
- (viii) No writer in India was so famous as R.K. Narayan. (Use 'other' after 'No')
- (ix) His condition is good today. (Say 'better' in place of 'good').
- (x) She is equally intelligent as my brother. (Use 'as' in place of 'equally')
- (xi) The Nile is longer than any other river in India. (Remove 'other')
- (xii) The Nile is longer than any other river in the world. (Correct)
- (xiii) She is taller than any other boy in the class. (Remove 'other')
- (xiv) The weather is as cold as last year. (Say 'as that of' or 'last year's)
- (xv) I found this book the most interesting. (Delete 'the')
- (xvi) Her shirt is cheaper than you. (Say 'yours'/your shirt)
- (xvii) The climate of Chennai is warmer than Delhi. (Say 'that of Delhi')

Rule XI

The use of 'all, both & whole' as adjectives.

- (A) Place 'the' after 'all' and 'both' when used as adjectives for plural nouns. But 'the' is used before 'whole'. e.g.,
- (i) All the students were present. (Correct)
 - (ii) Both the boys left soon. (Correct)
 - (iii) Whole country is suffering from drought. (Say 'The whole')
 - (iv) All sugar is wasted. (Uncountable noun, Correct)
- (B) Place possessive case after 'all' and 'both'. e.g.,
- (i) My all efforts ended in smoke. (Say 'All my')
 - (ii) Both my friends are honest. (Correct)
 - (iii) He is a fortunate person whose all efforts succeed. (Say 'all whose')

Rule XII

'Either, neither, only, both, even, but also' should be placed immediately before the words they emphasize. (qualify/ modify). e.g.,

- (i) She not only came to see me but also to take her old books. (Use 'not only' before 'to see')
- (ii) Neither she is intelligent nor honest. (Use 'neither' before 'intelligent')
- (iii) Her sister and her brother are both living with her. (Use 'both' before 'her sister')
- (iv) Not only he likes to take coffee but also tea. (Use 'Not only' before 'coffee')

Rule XIII

'As' is used in the positive degree to denote equality while 'than' is used in the comparative degree. Both 'as' and 'than' are required to be used when a sentence contains adjectives in positive and comparative forms. e.g.,

- (i) She is as honest, if not more honest than her brother. (Incorrect)
- She is as honest as, if not more honest than her brother. (Correct)
- (ii) I am as strong or even stronger than my foe. (Incorrect)
- I am as strong as or even stronger than my foe. (Correct)

Rule XIV

When two adjectives require different prepositions, appropriate prepositions should be used with both adjectives. e.g.,

- (i) He is senior and older than I. (Use 'to' after 'senior')
- (ii) His dress is different and cheaper than mine. (Use 'from' after 'different')
- (iii) She is stronger and younger than her sister. (Correct)

Rule XV

Place an adjective after noun when the noun is followed by preposition. e.g.,

- (i) The subject is a worthy matter of note. (Say 'matter worthy of')
- (ii) He is a suitable man for any post. (Say the 'man suitable for any post')

Rule XVI

Comparison of weight, quantity & number.

No comparison is implied in the following sentences, when there is 'time' used for comparison. So positive degree is used. e.g.

But we use comparative degree when the sentence is without 'times'

- (i) My book is three times cheaper than yours. (Say 'as cheap as')
- (ii) Your income is many times higher than Tushar's. (Incorrect, say 'as high as')
- (iii) This book is five rupees cheaper than yours. (Correct)
- (iv) This table is ten kilos lighter than that. (Correct)

Rule XVII

The following adjectives cannot be used before nouns (attributively), 'Afraid, asleep, due, ready, unable, alike, aware, glad, sorry, well, alone, ill, sure', worth. e.g., 'Ill man, asleep boy, alone lady, afraid man, alike situation' are wrong expressions.

- (i) She alone is responsible for my problems. (Correct)
- (ii) I found a boy asleep. (Correct)
- (iii) The man is ill. (Correct)
- (iv) The man is afraid of my dog. (Correct)
- (v) This book is worth reading. (Correct)

Rule XVIII

The order of adjectives qualifying a noun (S S A C N M)

Size → Shape → Age → Colour → Nationality → Material → Noun

- (i) Twenty year old black American Negro.
- (ii) A small Indian Stadium.
- (iii) A big round black Indian plastic table.
- (iv) A spacious dark cell.
- (v) A large glass room.

Adverb

What is an Adverb?

An adverb is a word used to add something to the meaning of a verb, adjective or another adverb. It is said to modify verbs, adjectives and adverbs. e.g.,

- (i) She is walking slowly.
- (ii) She is very intelligent.
- (iii) She is walking very slowly.

Kinds of Adverb

1. Adverb of time—Before, ago, lately, yet, now, soon, yesterday, already, never.
2. Adverb of frequency—Always, once, seldom, usually, rarely etc.
3. Adverb of place—Here, everywhere, down, near, away, backward, upward.
4. Adverb of manner—Slowly, so, soundly, delightfully.
5. Adverb of affirmation and negation—Certainly, apparently, obviously, no, undoubtedly.
6. Adverb of degree—Almost, fully, very, enough, rather, quite, too, really.
7. Interrogative adverb—How, what, when, why.
8. Relative adverb—When, where, why, how.

Relative adverbs are used to make an adjective clause.

He was born in the year when I left India. ('in which/on which')

He does not like to stay at the hotel where they are staying. ('in which/at which')

Don't you know the reason why she did not marry? ('for which')

You are supposed to know the manner how they cheated you. ('in which/by which')

Rules of Adverb

Rule I

Adjective qualifies a noun and a pronoun whereas adverb modifies a verb, an adjective and an adverb. e.g.,

- (i) Her act was remarkable. (Correct)
- (ii) She acted remarkably to achieve success. (Correct)
- (iii) She ran quicker than I. (Say 'more quickly' for 'quicker') (Correct)
- (iv) She is a very skilful dancer. (Correct)
- (v) She dances very skilfully. (Correct)

Rule II

Adverbs of time such as—

'Always, often, already, just, never, ever, sometimes, frequently, generally, recently, usually, seldom, hardly', rarely, normally etc. are generally placed before the verb they modify. e.g.,

- (i) My brother comes often every Sunday.
- (ii) He goes usually to the movie every Friday.
- (iii) He never talks ill of friends.
- (iv) He is always satisfied.

(Place 'often' before 'comes')
 (Place 'usually' before 'goes')
 (Correct)
 (Correct)

Rule III

Adverbs of manners are placed only after the Intransitive verb. However, the adverb can be placed either before or after the transitive verb. e.g.,

- (i) He returned immediately.
- (ii) He briefly narrated the incident to me.
- (iii) He narrated to me the incident briefly.
- (iv) He soundly slept last night.

(Correct)
 (Correct)
 (Correct)
 (Place 'soundly' after 'slept')

Rule IV

If the sentence is introduced by an adverb, inverted form of the verb is used for the sake of emphasis. e.g.,

- (i) Seldom he visits his parents. (Incorrect)
- (ii) Seldom does he visit his parents. (Correct)
- (iii) He seldom visits his parents. (Correct)
- (iv) Not seldom does he visit his parents. (Correct)
- (v) Never I'll see her again. (Correct)
- (vi) Never will I see her again. (Incorrect)
- (vii) I'll never see her again. (Correct)
- (viii) She no sooner reached the station than she met her friend. (Correct)
- (ix) No sooner did she reach the station than she met her friend. (Correct)
- (x) She had hardly reached the station when the train arrived. (Correct)
- (xi) Hardly/scarcely had she reached the station when the train arrived. (Correct)
- (xii) So quickly she ran that she overtook her rivals. (Use 'so quickly did she run')

Rule V : Use of Else and Other

'Else' should be followed by 'but'.

'Other' and 'otherwise' are followed by 'than' e.g.,

- (i) It is nothing else than sheer madness.
- (ii) She had no other alternative but stay here.
- (iii) She has no one else to look after her except me.

(Use 'but' in place of 'than')
 (Use 'than' in place of 'but')
 (Use 'but' in place of 'except')

Rule VI

- Both 'never' and 'not' are adverbs. The use of 'never' for 'not' is incorrect. e.g.,
- (i) I never went to Ooty last year. (Use 'did not' go in place of 'never')
 - (ii) I never remember to have said so. (Use 'do not' in place of 'never')
 - (iii) I remember never to have said so. (Correct)
- Or
- I don't remember to have said so.
- (iv) I never allow my son to go out in dark. (Correct/habitual action)

Rule VII

Note the use of phrases.

'Seldom or never', 'seldom, if ever', 'little or nothing', 'little, if anything'. The phrases 'seldom or ever' and 'little or anything' are wrong in use. e.g.,

- (i) We seldom or ever meet our relatives these days. (Incorrect)
- (ii) We seldom or never (seldom, if ever) meet our relatives these days. (Correct)

Rule VIII

Negative adverbs should not be used with the words negative in meaning. So two negatives should be avoided.

'Seldom, nowhere, never, nothing, hardly, scarcely, neither, barely, rarely' are some of the adverbs expressing negative meaning. e.g.,

- (i) I rarely went to meet nobody across the road. (Use 'anybody' in place of 'nobody')
- (ii) She hardly knows nothing about the family. (Use 'anything' in place of 'nothing')
- (iii) I hardly know somebody in the town. (Say 'anybody' in place of 'somebody')
- (iv) He does nothing without never consulting me. (Use 'ever' for 'never')
- (v) They do not seldom come here. (Remove 'do not')
- (vi) This will not help him, nothing never does. (Use 'ever' for 'never')
- (vii) He does not write well and I do not write neither. (Say 'either')

Note : (I) Avoid the use of negative, with 'deny, forbid' and 'both'.

- (i) She denied that she had not given him books. (Delete 'not')
- (ii) (a) Both of us are not going there. (Incorrect)
- (b) Neither of us is going there. (Correct)

(II) Avoid the use of negative with Conjunctions—until, unless, lest.

Rule IX

Given below are some of the examples of the words being treated as adverbs whereas they are adjectives or nouns. e.g.,

- (A) Manly, masterly, slovenly, monthly, weekly, sickly, friendly, orderly, gentlemanly are adjectives and should not be confused with adverbs.
- (B) Coward, miser, niggard are nouns.
'Cowardly, miserly, niggardly' are adjectives.
'In a cowardly, miserly, niggardly manner' are used as adverbs.
- (C) Fast, straight, outright, direct, hard, hardly, late' light, high, safe, quiet etc, are used both as an adjective and adverb.

- (D) 'Loudly' and 'Aloud' are adverbs though different in meanings. 'Loud' is an adjective.
- (E) Late, lately
Late is both an adjective & an adverb
Lately is an adverb. (Recently)
- (F) Hard is both an adjective and adverb used in affirmative sense.
Hardly is an adverb used in negative meaning. e.g.
- A soldier is trained never to fight cowardly. (Use 'in a cowardly manner')
 - I have never come across a coward Indian soldier. (Use 'cowardly' in place of 'coward')
 - The darkness closed in even as she was returning home fastly. (Use 'fast' in place of 'fastly')
 - You must learn to behave manly in the face of danger. (Use 'manfully' in place of 'manly')
 - He is earning five hundred rupees monthly. (Say 'a month')
 - She is doing this work good these days. (Say 'well' for 'good')
 - Rohit always comes lately to school. (Say 'late' for 'lately')
 - He is coward. (Use 'a' before 'coward')
 - The teacher asked the students to talk loudly. (Say 'aloud')
 - We must try to preserve hardly won freedom. (Use 'hard' in place of 'hardly')
 - Please keep the things in the room orderly. (Use 'in order' or 'in an orderly manner' in place of 'orderly')
 - She rejected my application outrightly. (Say 'outright')
 - Outright rejection of my plan disappointed me. (Correct)

Rule X

The use of 'very, much, so, too, enough, rather'.

- (A) 'Very' modifies present participle used as adjective, adverb and adjective in positive degree. 'Much' is used with comparative degree and past participle. e.g.,
- It is a much interesting picture. (Use 'very' in place of 'much')
 - I was very exhausted in the evening. (Use 'much' in place of 'very')
 - She did this work very quickly. (Correct)
 - She is much wiser than her mother. (Correct)
 - She is very tired after a day's work. (Correct)

- She is the very best teacher in our school. (Here 'very' means 'really')
 - She is much the best teacher in our school. (Here 'much' means 'decidedly')
 - She is by far the best teacher in our college. ('by far' means 'to a large extent')
- (B) 'So' and 'too' should not be used without 'that' (Adverb clause) and 'to' (Infinitive) respectively.
- 'Very' and 'much' may be used in the place of so and too.
- My brother is so healthy. (Use 'very' in place of 'so')
 - She is very kind. (Here 'very' means 'to a great extent')

- (iii) She is too poor to study further.
 (iv) She is so poor that she cannot study further. (Correct)
 (v) She is too healthy. (Correct)
 (vi) It is too bad. (Over healthy) say 'very' for too
 (Correct)
- (C) 'Enough' is both an adjective and adverb. As an adverb it is always placed after the adjective it modifies.
 As an adjective it is placed before a noun. e.g.,
 (i) She is enough wise to allow her son to go. (Place 'enough' after 'wise')
 (ii) He has enough money to spend.
 (iii) She is too kind to help everybody. (Say 'kind enough' very kind in place of 'too')
 (iv) She is too weak to pass. (Correct)

- (a) 'Rather' is an adverb of degree like 'fairly, quite, pretty (to some degree)'. e.g.,
 (i) She is rather intelligent.
 (ii) He is walking rather slowly.
- (b) 'Rather' can also be used before a noun. e.g.,
 (i) It is rather a nuisance.
 (ii) It is rather a good step. (or a rather good step)

Note : Article 'a', 'an' should be placed before a noun. If there is an adjective with a noun, articles 'a', 'an' may be placed either before or after 'rather'.

- (c) 'Rather' is also used in case of preference—
 'would rather, had rather, rather than' are used to express preference. e.g.,
 (Refer to Rule III(c) on Infinitive)

Rule XI

Note the difference between too, as well, also.

- (a) 'Too, as well, also', are used in the sense of "besides", "in addition to" in affirmative sentences. But 'also' cannot be used at end position.
 (i) She found her bag and money too/as well.
 (ii) She plays the piano and the harmonium as well/too.
 (iii) She found her bag and money also. (say 'also money')
- (b) So + auxiliary + subject is used in affirmative sentences in relation to two persons doing one action.
 (i) She won the prize and so did her sister. (win)
 (ii) His wife plays piano and so does he. (play)
- (c) Neither + auxiliary + subject is used in negative sentences in relation to two persons doing one action.
 (i) He does not write well and neither do I. (write)
 (ii) She will not lend money and neither will he. (lend)

Rule XII

While answering a question the adverb 'yes' or 'no' should be used according to the affirmative and negative answer. e.g.,

- (i) Have you taken food?
 (ii) Yes, I have not taken so far? (Use 'No' in place of 'Yes')

Rule XIII

(A) Adverb 'as' should be used to introduce predicative of the verbs 'regard, describe, define, treat, view, know'.

(B) Adverb 'as' should be avoided to introduce predicative of the verbs 'name, elect, think, consider, call, appoint, make, choose.' e.g.,

- (i) I regard him my brother. (Add 'as' after 'him')
- (ii) Science has been defined the study of nature. (Add 'as' after 'defined')

Prepositions

What is a Preposition?

The word Preposition (as is indicated by Prefix 'Pre') is a word or a group of words that is placed before a noun or pronoun to indicate direction, method, place, source etc. In other words, the noun or pronoun is shown to have a kind of relation with regard to something else with the help of a Preposition. e.g.—

- The Preposition may join one noun to another.

Sheena was in the kitchen.

('Sheena' and 'kitchen')

- It may join noun to a verb.

She slipped off the stairs.

('slipped' and 'stairs')

- It may join noun to an adjective.

We are proud of our country.

('proud' and 'country')

1. 'At, in, on, of, off, through, below, with' etc., are some of the prepositions.

2. The noun or pronoun used with the preposition is in the accusative case. e.g.—

- The book is on the table.

Here 'table' and 'him' have been used in the accusative case because these are words the objects of the preposition.

3. A Preposition sometimes may have more than one object. e.g.,

- I gave money to Ritu and her brother.

- Distribute the mangoes among the boys and the girls.

4. A clause can also be the object to a preposition. e.g.,

- I was pleased with what she did for me.

- Pay attention to what your parents say.

5. Adverbs of time and place can also be the object of preposition. e.g.,

- I don't like to go from here.

- She had returned by then.

6. When verbs are placed after prepositions (other than 'to') they should be in the gerund form except when they are used in infinitive form. e.g.,

- I am confident of winning her love.

- She does not believe in wasting time.

- She insisted on going to Pune.

Prepositions before Particular Words

Phrasal Verbs

What are Phrasal Verbs?

English language abounds in the use of verbs with prepositions or adverbs to obtain a variety of meanings. The verbs used with prepositions, adverbs or both are defined as phrasal verbs and they denote idiomatic meaning only when taken as a whole. These prepositions and adverbs are known in grammar as Particles. e.g.,

- (i) Set in start. (verb + preposition)
- (ii) Set up establish. (verb + adverb)
- (iii) Put up with tolerate. (verb + adverb + preposition)

Note : These expressions are to be taken as a whole verb + particles.

When particle is separated from its verb, both verb & particle revert to their individual meanings separately.

- (i) Set, in
- (ii) Set, up
- (iii) Put, up, with

There are two types of expressions of phrasal verbs :

1. Transitive expressions
2. Intransitive Expressions

1. Transitive Expressions

I. Nouns (as direct objects) are usually placed at the end of transitive expressions or immediately after the verb & before the particle.

- (i) She took off her apron.
- (ii) She took her apron off.

II. Pronoun objects are more often used after the verb or before the short words — 'off, on, up, down, in, out, away' etc.

- (i) I went to see him off.
- (ii) She brought him up.

III. Pronoun objects are placed at the end of such expressions when verbs cannot be split such as 'look for, account for, call at, call on, look after' etc.

- (i) I am looking for him.
- (ii) You should look after her.
- (iii) I called on him yesterday.
- (iv) You have to stand by me.

2. Intransitive Expressions

Intransitive expressions of phrasal verbs donot admit of any object.

- (i) She broke down in the court.
- (ii) His father came round at last.
- (iii) Their marriage comes off next month.
- (iv) The meeting broke up suddenly.

Chapter

Idioms and Phrases

The command of idiomatic expressions in any language is pre-requisite for effective writing and comprehension. Phrasal verbs, idiomatic adjectives, and noun phrases and idiomatic pairs of nouns, adjectives and adverbs comprise such a vast portion of idiomatic expressions that it is nearly impossible to deal with them comprehensively in such a short space. However, this chapter contains the most important usages that are indispensable for any competitive examination. Students would do well to consult the dictionary for further improvement in this field.

Sentence Improvement

The technique to attempt Sentence Improvement questions is a variation of Spotting errors. In this type of questions a sentence is given with a word or a phrase italicised, underlined or in bold letters. Under this sentence a number of substitutes are given as alternatives. An examinee is required to locate the error and find the correct answer from among the alternatives given. When the alternative has been substituted, the sentence becomes grammatically correct. If no other alternative is required, the answer is 'no improvement'.

However, this kind of questions can be attempted only if a student is comprehensively equipped with the knowledge of common errors, vocabulary, correct use of phrases, and overall comprehension of rules of grammar e.g.

1. If I am present there now, I would help him.

(a) I was	(b) I were
(c) I have been	(d) no improvement

As the sentence expresses regret for the present situation, subjunctive mood is required to be substituted for the italicised portion. Hence the correct answer is (b).

2. They told me that they had already sold out all their belongings.

(a) has sold already	(b) have already been sold.
(c) had already sold	(d) no improvement.

Since the italicised portion requires no improvement, the correct answer is (d).

Directions : In the following questions you will find sentences, part of which are italicised. Compare the italicised part of each sentence with the expressions (a), (b) and (c) given below. Choose the expression which is an improvement upon the italicised part. If none of the three expressions improves the sentence, then your answer is (d).

PART-B

Verbal Ability

Verbal ability is synonymous with Word Power. A student's comprehension skill, writing skill and communication skill depend on his verbal ability. In written examinations the verbal ability of an examinee is tested by way of his comprehension skill.

This section of the book provides students with a large number of words and expressions. It would be presumptuous to claim that the words and expressions included in the book are sufficient. However we have taken every care to avoid superfluity. There is no tendency on our part to include a word just because nobody has ever heard of it. Only such words and their figurative expressions as are currently in vogue have been dealt within the ensuing chapters to help students meet with the challenge confidently in this sphere.

Chapter1*Paronyms and Homonyms

Confusion is often caused in understanding the meanings of certain words because they are either similar in meaning and form or similar in their sound of pronunciation. The words which are different in meaning or use but are similar in form or derivations are called Paronyms. On the other hand Homonyms are similar in their sound or pronunciation but different in meaning. They are also called Homophones (different in spelling and meaning but pronounced alike). In Modern English Paronyms and Homonyms (Homophones) are not much distinguished.

One Word Substitutions

One Word Substitutions (Substitutes) may be defined as single words that are used in place of a group of words to denote a person, an object, a place, a state of mind a profession etc. In common parlance they are termed as single words used to make an expression brief and pertinent. Polonius in 'Hamlet', a play by Shakespeare, aptly remarks :

"Therefore since brevity is the soul of wit.

The tediousness the limbs and outward flourishes I will be brief :"

As such the use of one word substitutions tend to obviate the repetition of unnecessary words avoiding verbosity and ambiguity. Rambling style speaks of a rambling state of mind whereas brevity conveys telling effect.

Moreover, one word substitutions are indispensable while writing a precis of a given passage. A student is required not to exceed the limit of words. They come in handy in such situations. Hence their significance cannot be gainsaid and students are advised to learn them very seriously.

A few of one word substitutes are given below for the benefit of the students.

Sequence of Sentences

Sequence of Sentences and Paragraphs

One of the questions set in the objective test in English relates to Sequence of Sentences. A student is required to rearrange the parts of a sentence into a meaningful paragraph. Infact there are no hard and fast rules for this kind of test. Only sound knowledge of English language or reconstructed paragraphs. This section of the book in your hand equips the students with the essentials of this kind of test.

Type I : Reconstruction of a sentence

In this type of rearrangement of sentences six parts of a sentence are given. The positions of sentences 1 and 6 are fixed. The rest of the four parts are numbered as PQRS which are jumbled. A student is expected to arrange these four parts in a meaningful sequence and mark the correct order from among the alternatives provided. e.g.

1 : It is well-known that

P : youngsters in the cities and the villages

Q : The effect

R : of the cinema

S : on the school and college going

6 : is very bad

(a) Q S P R

(b) Q R S P

(c) R S P Q

(d) R Q P S

The correct sequence is (b) Q R S P.

Type II : Reconstruction of a paragraph

In this type of questions six sentences are given. The first and the sixth sentences of the paragraph are labelled as S_1 and S_6 respectively. The middle four sentences are jumbled up. A candidate is required to find the proper order for the four sentences to make a meaningful paragraph. Consider S_1 as the first sentence and S_6 as the last one. e.g.:

(a) S_1 : But how does a new word get into the dictionary?

S_6 : He sorts them according to their grammatical function, and carefully writes a definition.

P : When a new dictionary is being edited, a lexicographer collects all the alphabetically arranged citation slips for a particular word.

Work book Exercise (A) : Jumbled parts of a Sentence

Directions : In the following questions the first and the last parts of the sentence are numbered as 1 and 6. The rest of the sentence is split into four parts and are named as P, Q, R and S. Work Book Exercise (C) : Ordering of Sentences

Directions : In the following items each passage consists of six sentences. The first and the sixth sentences are given in the beginning and labelled as S₁ and S₆ respectively. The middle four sentences in each have been removed and jumbled up. These are labelled as P, Q, R and S. You are required to find the proper order for the four sentences and mark accordingly.

1. S₁ : The lion used to be very widely distributed in Africa and Asia.
 S₆ : No hunting is permitted in such reserved areas.
 P : There are special forest zones set aside for wildlife in various countries.
 Q : Indiscriminate killing by hunters has been the cause of this drastic fall in their numbers.
 R : Today they are a relatively rare species.
 S : If the species survives at all it will be only in national parks.

3. S₁ : One of the greatest curses of the world is the belief in the necessity of poverty.
S₆ : We have been poor in the very midst of abundance, simply because of our own blighting limiting thought.
P : There need not be a poor person on the planet.
Q : But there was no poverty, no want, no lack, in the creator's plan for man.
R : Most people have a strong conviction that some must necessarily be poor, that they were made to be poor.
S : The earth is full of resources which we have scarcely yet touched.
Which one of the following sequences is correct?

Objective Comprehension

Objective Comprehension of a given passage or a number of passages is an integral part of any examination test in English. The objective English tests of competitive examination are designed to assess through questions the verbal ability, language skills, the knowledge of the examinees on grammar, vocabulary and comprehension of written English. Therefore, a student is required to read the passage carefully and choose a correct answer out of the alternatives given under the question. However, the questions are challenging and they all require an appreciation of more than just the superficial understanding of the passage. Therefore, it is very important that due attention should be paid to comprehension exercises.

The important points to be noted in this field are given as under :

- (a) It is pertinent to note that sense of language and fund of words should be ample enough so that students may not feel disadvantage on that account.
- (b) The questions are based on what is stated or implied in each passage.
- (c) Invariably the inference is based on the logical consequence of the information in the passage. Therefore, the answers must be based on and supported by the information given in the passage under reference.
- (d) In some competitive examinations the students are also required to answer questions on synonyms and antonyms given in the passage. It is very important to note that the meaning of the word should be chosen from the alternatives in the context of the theme of the passage. One must not take into account only the literal meaning of the word.

Passage 1

Directions : Read the following passages carefully and answer the questions that follow.

Vishwaditya, the king of Magadh, heard that a great physician who lived in the neighbouring kingdom had invented an edible magic substance, which, if eaten with sweetmeat, would give one long life. He invited the physician through his messengers. The physician arrived with four sweetmeat balls mixed with the magic substance. The delighted king ordered his soldiers to bring a big garland made of very attractive looking and scented flowers, and himself garlanded the physician. The physician removed the precious cloth with which he had covered the plate of sweetmeat balls. The king's joy knew no bounds at the sight of the contents of the plate. While the physician was about to offer the sweetmeat balls to the king, the court jester rushed forward, picked up a ball and began eating it. Everyone present in the court was astonished. "Take hold of the mad chap!" shouted the king. The king's bodyguards did so. The half eaten sweetmeat ball fell from his hand. "How dare you touch the magic thing meant for me? Be ready to face the consequence-death!" The jester shed tears. "No use crying", said the king. "I am crying for you, my Lord!" replied the jester. "Why?" asked the king. "My lord, by eating only half of the magic thing, I am going to die. What will happen to you when you eat the whole of the magic thing?" said the jester. The king saw sense in what the jester said. He realized his mistake of believing in such magic things. He suitably honoured the jester.

1. "The king's bodyguards did so." Which of the following correctly explains 'did so'?

Passage 2

White cement is the basic raw material for producing cement tiles and cement paint which are used extensively : building construction. The main consumers of white cement are, therefore, cement tile and cement paint manufacturing units. These consumers, mostly in the small scale sector, are today facing a major crisis because of a significant increase in the price of white cement during a short period. The present annual licensed production capacity of white and grey cement in the country is approximately 3.5 lakh tonnes. The average demand is 2-2.5 tonnes. This means that there is idle capacity to the tune of one lakh tonnes or more. The price rise is, therefore, not a phenomenon arising out of inadequate production capacity but evidently because of artificial scarcity created by the manufacturers in their self-interest.

The main reason for the continuing spurt in cement price is its decontrol. As it is, there is stiff competition in the cement paint and tile manufacturing business. Any further price revision at this stage is bound to have a severe adverse impact on the market conditions. The Government should take adequate steps to ensure that suitable controls are brought in. Else it should allow import of cement.

1. Why is the price of cement going up?
 - (a) Because the Government is controlling the quota.
 - (b) Because of export of white cement.
 - (c) Because of the large usage of white cement.
 - (d) Because of extensive usage of white cement for construction.
 - (e) None of these.

2. Which of the following statement is false according to the passage?
- (a) Price rise in white cement would increase the price of cement paint.
 - (b) White cement is a controlled product.
 - (c) Increase in price of white cement is not because of production problem.
 - (d) Price rise in white cement would upset cement tile market.
 - (e) Most cement paint manufacturers are from small scale sector.
3. What is the crisis being faced by the cement tile manufacturers as described in the passage?
- (a) White cement is priced very low.
 - (b) White cement is not of good quality.
 - (c) White cement usage is high.
 - (d) White cement prices are very high.
 - (e) White cement is being exported.
4. Which of the following words has the same meaning as the word 'idle' as used in the passage?
- (a) Lazy
 - (b) Clumsy
 - (c) Large
 - (d) Excess
 - (e) Known
5. Which of the following is correct according to the passage?
- (a) White cement is not used in the manufacture of paint.
 - (b) White cement forms a minor part of tile manufacturing.
 - (c) White cement is very important for tile manufacturing.
 - (d) White cement is used only for making paints.
 - (e) None of these.

- (a) Unnatural
 - (b) Prolonged
 - (c) Practical
 - (d) Absolute
 - (e) Deliberate
7. What is the author's suggestion to bring down prices?
- (a) Government should control the white cement market.
 - (b) Production capacity should be increased.
 - (c) Usage of white cement in other areas should be reduced.
 - (d) Competition among manufacturers of cement paints and tiles should be reduced.
 - (e) None of these.
8. Which of the following words has the opposite meaning as the word 'basic' as used in the passage?
- (a) Vital
 - (b) Unimportant
 - (c) Acidic
 - (d) Last
 - (e) Small

9. Which of the following is correct according to the passage?
- (a) Cement production capacity is more than usage.
 - (b) Cement production capacity is less than usage.
 - (c) Cement production capacity is equal to usage.
 - (d) Cement production capacity is twice than usage.
 - (e) None of these.
10. What can be presumed from the passage regarding foreign trade in cement?
- (a) The country is exporting cement at present.
 - (b) The country is importing cement at present.
 - (c) The country is exporting and importing cement.
 - (d) The country is neither exporting nor importing cement.
 - (e) None of these.

Passage 3

Because goldfish can be kept easily in small ponds and aquariums, They make good pets, but like many other pets, they must have proper care and the right kind of place to live.

A twoinch fish requires a minimum of two gallons of water containing sufficient oxygen to support life. Some oxygen will make its way into the water of an aquarium from the air that touches the surface. Plants in an aquarium also help to furnish oxygen. Snails help to keep an aquarium clean. Thus, with plenty of plants and snail, the water in an aquarium does not have to be changed frequently. A large lake may prove to be a quite unsuitable abode for goldfish.

It is important that goldfish should not be overfed. They can be fed such things as dried insects in addition to commercially prepared goldfish food, but they should never be fed more than once a day. Even then, they should not be given more food than can be consumed in about five minutes. This ensures prolonged life.

1. Which of the following statement is true?
 - (a) Goldfish should be given food only once a day.
 - (b) Snails eat up the goldfish in an aquarium.
 - (c) Plants provide food to the snails.
 - (d) Goldfish comes above the surface of water to get oxygen from air.
 - (e) A large take is an ideal place for goldfish.
2. Which of the following statements is not true?
 - (a) Snails make the aquarium clean by eating up goldfish.
 - (b) Two gallons of water with sufficient oxygen is enough for two inch fish.
 - (c) Goldfish can be made good pets.
 - (d) Plants in an aquarium provide oxygen to goldfish.
 - (e) Goldfish must never be given too much food.
3. Which of the following helps supply goldfish with oxygen?
 - (a) Snails
 - (b) Plants
 - (c) Dried insects
 - (d) Aquarium
 - (e) Surface of water

4. Water in an aquarium needs to be changed if
 - (a) there are plenty of snails and plants in it.
 - (b) there is no sufficient oxygen in it.
 - (c) it is very clean and contains sufficient oxygen.
 - (d) it does not contain goldfish food and dried insects.
 - (e) None of these.
5. What is important to remember when feeding goldfish?
 - (a) They should be fed more than once a day.
 - (b) They should be fed at five-minute intervals.
 - (c) They should be fed with plants and snails.
 - (d) They should be fed only once a day.
 - (e) They should be given more food than they can consume.

Passage 4

The forces that generate conditions conducive to crime and riots are stronger in urban communities than in rural areas. Urban living is more anonymous living. It often releases the individual from community restraints more common in tradition-oriented societies. But more freedom from constraints and controls also provides greater freedom to deviate. And living in the more impersonalized, formally controlled Urban society means that regulatory orders of conduct are often directed by distant bureaucrats. The police are strangers executing these prescriptions on an anonymous set of subjects. Minor offences in small town or village are often handled without resort to official police action. As disputable as such action may seem to be, it results in fewer recorded violations of the law compared to the big cities. Although perhaps causing some decision-difficulties for the police in small town, formal and objective law enforcement is not always acceptable to villagers.

Urban areas with mass population, greater wealth, more commercial establishments and more products of our technology also provide more frequent opportunities for theft. Victims are impersonalized, property is insured, consumer goods in more abundance are vividly displayed and are more portable. The crime-rate increases despite formal moral education given in schools.

1. According to the passage, all the following contribute to higher crime-rates in urban areas except :
 - (a) vivid display of consumer goods.
 - (b) higher standard of living.
 - (c) Urban impersonalized living.
 - (d) increasing population.
 - (e) inadequate police force.
2. Which of the following is a characteristic of an urban setting?
 - (a) Unreported minor crimes.
 - (b) Deviation from freedom.
 - (c) Less forceful social control.
 - (d) Minimal opportunities of crime due to better law enforcement.
 - (e) Fewer recorded violations of the law.

3. The author's view of 'Traditional Societies' is best expressed by which of the following?
 - (a) They provide less freedom for the individual in many circumstances.
 - (b) They have lower crime-rates because of the moral teachings in schools.
 - (c) They provide inadequate freedom for personal movements and travel.
 - (d) They do not have adequate modern technology.
 - (e) They are ruled and controlled by distant bureaucrats.
4. People live under more social control in :
 - (a) formally controlled Urban societies.
 - (b) the presence of the police authorities.
 - (c) an anonymous form of living.
 - (d) non-traditional societies.
 - (e) None of these.
5. It can be inferred from the passage that urban crime can be controlled by :
 - (a) greater emphasis on moral education.
 - (b) enforcement of law by distant bureaucrats.
 - (c) vivid display of expensive consumer goods.
 - (d) making the expensive consumer goods less portable.
 - (e) None of these.
6. Which of the following statements is true in the context of the passage?
 - (a) The display of consumer goods is the main cause of crime.
 - (b) Lack of personal contacts increases crimes in Urban areas.
 - (c) Small communities have more minor crimes than in Urban centres.
 - (d) Urban crime areas cannot be prevented.
 - (e) Police in Urban areas settle minor disputes without official action.
7. Which of the following statements is not true in the context of the passage?
 - (a) Moral education imparted in schools is ineffective in checking crime-rate.
 - (b) There is less freedom in the current society than in a traditional society.
 - (c) Urban areas are thickly populated and commercialized.
 - (d) Anonymous living in urban areas may lead to a freedom to deviate from rules.
 - (e) Urban areas provide more opportunities for crime than rural areas do.
8. According to the passage, the crime in small towns :
 - (a) is less frequently reported or dealt with officially.
 - (b) is brought well under control by distant bureaucrats.
 - (c) leads to an impersonalized style of living.
 - (d) is often dealt with objective law enforcement.
 - (e) always causes difficulties for the police authorities.

Passage 5

A close look at the facts relating to political interference in administration shows that it is not a one-way process. There is often a nexus between power-hungry and corrupt politicians and civil servants with convenient principles. Many civil servants are only too anxious to oblige the politicians, and then cash the obligation when they need some special favour. So the attitude of self-righteousness adopted by the civil service is sometimes only a way of covering their own flaws by blaming others.

Every now and then some retired civil servants come out with his memoirs, painting a glorious picture of the heights of administrative efficiency reached during his reign. There is often the suggestion that had there not been so much political interference, things would have been even more fantastic. It is not unusual for the self-styled hero to blame not only interfering politicians but also fellow civil servants who were idiots or crooks, for his failures. This attitude of smug self-satisfaction is, unfortunately, developed during the years of service. Self-preservation rather than service is encouraged by our whole system of rules and procedures.

The remedy has to be drastic and quickly effective. The over-protection now granted to civil servants must end. Today to remove an erring civil servant is just not possible. And the only thing that the highest authority in the Government, both in the State and at the Centre, can do is to transfer an official from one job to another. The rules for taking disciplinary action are so complicated that, in the end, the defaulting civil servant gets away, and gets his full emoluments even for the period of the disciplinary proceedings, thus making it a paid holiday for him.

The result is that the administration has become rule-oriented and not result-oriented. Action is possible against the official who takes some interest in his work, but no action is ever taken against a person who does not deliver the goods. If the country is to adopt a result-oriented approach, it is necessary to link job performance with job retention.

1. The facts relating to the problem of political interference indicate that :
 - (a) honest bureaucrats are always being troubled by politicians.
 - (b) politicians are often misled and trapped by civil servants.
 - (c) politicians and civil servants co-operate to gain mutual advantages.
 - (d) politicians and civil servants use interference as an excuse for victimizing the common man.
2. The attitude of self-righteousness adopted by the civil service, according to the writer :
 - (a) is not welcomed and supported by politicians.
 - (b) is dishonest and conceals the facts.
 - (c) is very difficult to maintain because of opposition.
 - (d) does not really help the public get fair treatment.
3. Civil servants who write their memoirs after retiring :
 - (a) claim that they would have achieved outstanding success if interference had not come in the way.
 - (b) prove that constant political interference made it impossible for them to do anything properly.
 - (c) complain that the credit for their achievements goes to dishonest politicians.
 - (d) prove that people of inferior quality in the civil service bring about interference.

4. The existing system of administration seems to encourage civil servants :
 - (a) to become self-styled heroes and boss over others.
 - (b) to present a glorious picture of the administration.
 - (c) to become self-centred and concerned mainly about their own gain.
 - (d) to become self-righteous and fight back against corrupt politicians.
5. The problem with the present set-up needing urgent action is :
 - (a) a lack of accountability on the part of civil servants.
 - (b) a lack of control over the power of politicians.
 - (c) a neglect of the ideals of self-righteousness.
 - (d) complicated rules and procedures that greatly reduce efficiency.
6. The main principle of the remedy proposed by the writer is, that :
 - (a) the politicians should be made accountable for all their decisions.
 - (b) the high level of protection enjoyed by civil servants should be reduced.
 - (c) the common man's right to efficient and fair administration must be protected.
 - (d) rules should be simplified so that there is less scope for misuse.
7. According to existing procedures, if a civil servant is found to be unsuitable or dishonest, :
 - (a) he can appeal to an authority like the Supreme Court.
 - (b) politicians with whom he has special links will interfere to help him.
 - (c) transferring him to another post is the usual action taken.
 - (d) a conflict between Central Government and State Government interests can arise.
8. The writer refers to 'a paid holiday' to support his argument that :
 - (a) civil servants get a lot of extra benefits.
 - (b) disciplinary action is generally not quick or effective.
 - (c) lazy and inefficient bureaucrats seem to be on holiday even when on duty.
 - (d) special postings that 'favoured' civil servants are unnecessary and wasteful.
9. The expression 'linking job performance with job retention' refers to a policy in which :
 - (a) selection to civil service jobs is on the basis of rigorous performance tests.
 - (b) selection to civil service jobs is on the basis of rigorous performance and not a minister's opinions is the basis of transfer or promotion.
 - (c) retention of good Government servants by discouraging their going to private companies.
 - (d) continuation in service will depend on satisfactory performance.
10. The expression 'deliver the goods' means :
 - (a) show good job performance.
 - (b) accept bribes or other illegal favours.
 - (c) make payments of black money as bribes.
 - (d) successfully defend oneself against a charge, in a disciplinary inquiry.

Passage 6

A recent report in News Week says that in American colleges, students of Asian origin outperform not only the minority group students but the majority whites as well. Many of these students must be of Indian origin, and their achievement is something we can be proud of. It is unlikely that these talented youngsters will come back to India, and that is the familiar brain drain problem. However recent statements by the nation's policy-makers indicate that the perception of this issue is changing. 'Brain bank' and not 'brain drain' is the more appropriate idea, they suggest since the expertise of Indians abroad is only deposited in other places and not lost.

This may be so, but this brain bank, like most other banks, is one that primarily serves customers in its neighbourhood. The skills of the Asians now excelling in America's colleges will mainly help the U.S.A.. No matter how significant, what non-resident Indians do for India and what their counterparts do for other Asian lands is only a by-product.

But it is also necessary to ask, or be reminded, why Indians study fruitfully when abroad. The Asians whose accomplishments News Week records would have probably had a very different tale if they had studied in India. In America they found elbow room, books and facilities not available and not likely to be available here. The need to prove themselves in their new country and the competition of an international standard they faced there must have cured mental and physical laziness. But other things helping them in America can be obtained here if we achieve a change in social attitudes, specially towards youth.

We need to learn to value individuals and their unique qualities more than conformity and respectability. We need to learn the language of encouragement to add to our skill in flattery. We might also learn to be less liberal with blame and less tightfisted with appreciation, especially.

1. Among the many groups of students in American colleges, Asian students :
 - (a) are often written about in magazines like News Week.
 - (b) are most successful academically.
 - (c) have proved that they are as good as the whites.
 - (d) have only a minority status like the blacks.
2. The student of Asian origin in America include :
 - (a) a fair number from India.
 - (b) a small group from India.
 - (c) persons from India who are very proud.
 - (d) Indians who are the most hard working of all.
3. In general, the talented young Indians studying in America :
 - (a) have a reputation for being hard working.
 - (b) have the opportunity to contribute to India's development.
 - (c) can solve the brain drain problem because of recent changes in policy.
 - (d) will not return to pursue their careers in India.
4. There is talk now of the 'brain bank'. This idea :
 - (a) is a solution to the brain drain problem.
 - (b) is a new problem caused partly by the brain drain.
 - (c) is a new way of looking at the role of qualified Indians living abroad.
 - (d) is based on a plan to utilize foreign exchange remittances to stimulate research and development.

5. The brain bank has limitations like all banks in the sense that :
 - (a) a bank's services go mainly to those near it.
 - (b) small neighbourhood banks are not visible in this age of multinationals.
 - (c) only what is deposited can be withdrawn and utilized.
 - (d) no one can be forced to put his assets in a bank.
6. The author feels that what non-resident Indians do for India :
 - (a) will have many useful side effects.
 - (b) will not be their main interest and concern.
 - (c) can benefit other Asian countries, as a by-product.
 - (d) can American colleges be of service to the world community.
7. The performance of Indians when they go to study in the West :
 - (a) shows the fruits of hardwork done by school teachers in India.
 - (b) should remind us that knowledge and wisdom are not limited by the boundaries of race and nation.
 - (c) is better than people in the West expect of non-whites.
 - (d) is better than what it would have been if they had studied in India.
8. The high level of competition faced by Asian students in America :
 - (a) helps them overcome their lazy habits.
 - (b) makes them lazy since the facilities there are good.
 - (c) makes them worried about failing.
 - (d) helps them prove that they are as good as whites.
9. The author feels that some of the conditions other than the level of facilities that make the West attractive :
 - (a) are available in India but young people do not appreciate them.
 - (b) can never be found here because we believe in conformity.
 - (c) can be created if our attitudes and values change.
 - (d) can also give respectability to our traditions and customs.
10. One of the ways of making the situation in India better would be :
 - (a) to eliminate flattery from public life.
 - (b) to distinguish between conformity and respectability.
 - (c) to give appreciation and not be tightfisted.
 - (d) to encourage people and not merely flatter them.

Passage 7

True, it is the function of the army to maintain law and order in abnormal times. But in normal times there is another force that compels citizens to obey the laws and to act with due regard to the rights of others. The force also protects the lives and the properties of law abiding men. Laws are made to secure the personal safety of its subjects and to prevent murder and crimes of violence. They are made to secure the property of the citizens against theft and damage to protect the rights of communities and castes to carry out their customs and ceremonies, so long as they do not conflict with the rights of others. Now the good citizen, of his own free will obey these laws and he takes care that everything he does is done with due regard to the rights and well-being of others. But the bad citizen is only restrained from breaking these laws by fear of the consequence of his actions. And the necessary steps to compel the bad citizen to act as a good citizen are taken by this force. The supreme control of law and order in a State is in the hands of a Minister who is responsible to the State Assembly and acts through the Inspector General of Police.

1. The expression 'customs and ceremonies' means :
 - (a) fairs and festivals.
 - (b) habits and traditions.
 - (c) usual practices and religious rites.
 - (d) superstitions and formalities.
2. A suitable title for the passage would be :
 - (a) the function of the army.

 - (d) the functions of the police.
3. Which of the following is not implied in the passage?
 - (a) Law protects those who respect it.
 - (b) Law ensures people's religious and social rights absolutely and unconditionally.
 - (c) A criminal is deterred from committing crimes only for fear of the law.
 - (d) The forces of law help to transform irresponsible citizens into responsible ones.
4. According to the writer, which one of the following is not the responsibility of the police?
 - (a) To protect the privileges of all citizens.
 - (b) To check violent activities of citizens.
 - (c) To ensure peace among citizens by safeguarding individual rights.
 - (d) To maintain peace during extraordinary circumstances.
5. Which of the following reflects the main thrust of the passage?
 - (a) It deals with the importance of the army in maintaining law and order.
 - (b) It highlights role of the police as superior to that of the army.
 - (c) It discusses the roles of the army and the police in different circumstances.
 - (d) It points to the responsibility of the Minister and the Inspector General of Police.
6. "They are made to secure the property of citizens against theft and damage", means that the law :
 - (a) helps in recovering the stolen property of the citizens.
 - (b) assist the citizens whose property has been stolen or destroyed.
 - (c) initiate process against offenders of law.
 - (d) safeguard people's possessions against being stolen or lost.
7. Out of the following which one has the opposite meaning to the word 'restrained' in the passage?

(a) Promoted	(b) Accelerated
(c) Intruded	(d) Inhibited

8. Which one of the following statement is implied in the passage?
- (a) Peaceful citizens seldom violate the law, but bad citizens have to be restrained by the police.
 - (b) Criminals, who flout the law, are seldom brought to book.
 - (c) The police hardly succeed in converting bad citizens into good citizens.
 - (d) The police check the citizens, whether they are good or bad, from violating the law.
9. Which of the following statements expresses most accurately the idea contained in the first sentence?
- (a) It is the job of the army to ensure internal peace at all times.
 - (b) It is the police that should always enforce law and order in the country.
 - (c) Army and the police ensure people's security through combined operations.
 - (d) It is in exceptional circumstances that the army has to ensure peace in the country.
10. The last sentence of the passage implies that :
- (a) The Inspector General of Police is the sole authority in matters of law and order.
 - (b) In every State maintenance of public peace is under the overall control of the responsible Minister.
 - (c) A Minister and a responsible State, Assembly exercise direct authority in matters pertaining to law and order.
 - (d) The Inspector General of Police is responsible to the State Assembly for maintaining law and order.

Passage 8

The first step is for us to realise that a city need not be a frustrater of life; it can be among other things, a mechanism for enhancing life, for producing possibilities of living which are not to be realized except through cities. But, for that to happen, deliberate and drastic planning is needed. Towns as much as animals, must have their systems of organs—those for transport and circulation are an obvious example. What we need now are organ systems for recreation, leisure, culture, community expression. This means abundance of open space, easy access to unspoilt Nature, beauty in parks and in fine buildings, gymnasiums and swimming baths and recreation grounds in plenty, central spaces for celebrations and demonstrations, halls for citizens' meetings, concert halls and theatres and cinemas that belong to the city. And the buildings must not be built anyhow or dumped down anywhere; both they and their groupings should mean something important to the people of the place.

1. Cities can be made to provide full facilities for life, only if :
- (a) these can be mechanically developed.
 - (b) proper transport system is introduced.
 - (c) cinemas, theatres and concert halls are established there.
 - (d) these are thoughtfully and vigorously designed to serve people's needs.

2. A suitable title for the passage would be :
 - (a) Towns versus Animals.
 - (b) The Need for Planned Cities.
 - (c) Transport and Communication System in a City.
 - (d) The Need for Entertainment Centres in a City.
3. "A city need not be a frustrater of life" means that :
 - (a) one does not expect fulfilment of all life's requirements from a city.
 - (b) city life provides all the essential needs of life.
 - (c) a city does not necessarily lift man's standard of living.
 - (d) a city should not defeat the fulfilment of life's aspirations and aims.
4. Which one of the following has the opposite meaning to the word 'frustrater' in the passage?

(a) Promoter	(b) Applauder
(c) Approver	(d) Executer
5. "The building must not be built anyhow or dumped down anywhere"....the statement implies that building :
 - (a) should be built with suitable material.
 - (b) should be constructed, according to some suitable design, not indiscriminately.
 - (c) should be scattered to provide for more of open space.
 - (d) should be built to enable citizens to enjoy nature.
6. The word 'drastic' in the passage means :

(a) orderly.	(b) powerful.
(c) consistent.	(d) determined.
7. The author talks about 'Unspoilt Nature'. In what way can Nature remain unspoilt?
 - (a) If Nature is not allowed to interfere with people's day-to-day life.
 - (b) By building cities with the system of organs like those of animals.
 - (c) By allowing free access to parks and open spaces.
 - (d) By allowing Nature to retain its primitive, undomesticated character.
8. According to the author, the function of a city is to :
 - (a) provide adequate community expression.
 - (b) make available centres of recreation and public gatherings.
 - (c) facilitate traffic and communication.
 - (d) raise the tone of life and make it more meaningful.
9. The opening sentence of the passage implies that :
 - (a) the possibilities of living a decent life cannot be found in a city.
 - (b) only a city can provide the means to lead a full life.
 - (c) among other places, a city can also help man to lead a successful life.
 - (d) a city provides better opportunities for good living than a village.

Passage 9

It is strange that, according to his position in life, an extravagant man is admired or despised. A successful businessman does nothing to increase his popularity by being careful with his money. He is expected to display his success, to have a smart car, an expensive life, and to be lavish with his hospitality. If he is not so, he is considered mean and his reputation in business may even suffer in consequence. The paradox remains that if he had not been careful with his money in the first place, he would never have achieved his present wealth. Among the two income group, a different set of values exists. The young clerk who makes his wife a present of a new dress when he hadn't paid his house rent, is condemned as extravagant. Carefulness with money to the point of meanness is applauded as a virtue. Nothing in his life is considered more worthy than paying his bills. The ideal wife for such a man separates her housekeeping money into joyless little piles—so much for rent, for food, for the children's shoes; she is able to face the milkman with equanimity and never knows the guilt of buying something she can't really afford. As for myself, I fall into neither of these categories. If I have money to spare, I can be extravagant, but when, as is usually the case, I am hard up, then I am the meanest man imaginable.

1. In the opinion of the writer, a successful businessman :
 - (a) is more popular if he appears to be doing nothing.
 - (b) should not bother about his popularity.
 - (c) must be extravagant before achieving success.
 - (d) is expected to have expensive tastes.
2. The phrase 'lavish with his hospitality' signifies :
 - (a) miserliness in dealing with his friends.
 - (b) considerateness in spending on guests and strangers.
 - (c) extravagance in entertaining guests.
 - (d) indifference in treating his friends and relatives.
3. We understand from the passage that :
 - (a) all mean people are wealthy.
 - (b) wealthy people are invariably successful.
 - (c) carefulness generally leads to failure.
 - (d) thrift may lead to success.
4. It seems that low paid people should :
 - (a) not pay their bills promptly.
 - (b) not keep their creditors waiting.
 - (c) borrow money to meet their essential needs.
 - (d) feel guilty if they overspend.
5. The word 'paradox' means :
 - (a) statement based on facts.
 - (b) that which brings out the inner meaning.
 - (c) that which is contrary to received opinion.
 - (d) statement based on the popular opinion.

6. How does the housewife, described by the writer, feel when she saves money?
(a) is content to be so thrifty.
(b) wishes life were less burdensome.
(c) is still troubled by a sense of guilt.
(d) wishes she could sometimes be extravagant.
7. Which of the following is opposite in meaning to the word 'applauded' in the passage?
(a) Humiliated
(b) Decried
(c) Cherished
(d) Suppressed
8. The statement 'she is able to face the milkman with equanimity' implies that :
(a) she is not upset as she has been paying the milkman his dues regularly.
(b) she loses her nerve at the sight of the milkman who always demands his dues.
(c) she manages to keep cool as she has to pay the milkman only a month's dues.
(d) she remains composed and confident as she knows that she can handle the milkman tactfully.
9. As far as money is concerned, we get the impression that the writer :
(a) is incapable of saving anything.
(b) is never inclined to be extravagant.
(c) would like to be considered extravagant.
(d) doesn't often have any money to save.
10. Which of the following would be the most suitable title for the passage?
(a) Extravagance leads to poverty.
(b) Miserly habits of the poor.
(c) Extravagance in the life of the rich and the poor.
(d) Extravagance is always condemnable.

Passage 10

A pioneering scheme has been started recently in Southampton on England's south coast to educate motorists who have been convicted of drunken driving.

The penalty for drunken driving might be the loss of a driving licence and a heavy fine. But under the new scheme, convicted drivers do not pay the fine. Instead they have to attend eight training sessions—one a week organized by the local authority probation service. Designed to demonstrate the damage alcohol can do, the scheme was devised by senior probation officer John Cook. He said about a quarter of the people who came to him had a drink problem, but had not realized how much they were drinking. One way of getting the message across was to make the drivers pour out their usual ration of alcohol and then measure it. Almost everyone pours out not a single measure but a double at least an example of how easy it is to have more than just one drink and to encourage other people to do the same. The instructors on the course are giving clinical evidence of the effects of alcohol on the body and brain. The sober truth is that drinking badly affects driving skills, although the drinker might like to believe otherwise.

1. The Southampton scheme requires convicted drivers :
 - (a) to pay a heavy fine.
 - (b) to attend eight driving sessions—one a week.
 - (c) to undergo a probation service.
 - (d) to surrender their driving licence.
2. John Cook devised the scheme :
 - (a) as a demonstration technique for driving.
 - (b) to demonstrate the harmful effects of alcohol.
 - (c) to show that Southampton was concerned about drivers.
 - (d) to prove that alcohol does influence driving.
3. The problem with a quarter of the people who went to John Cook was that they :
 - (a) did not want to stop drinking.
 - (b) were unaware of the fact that they could get drunk.
 - (c) would not admit that they had a drinking problem.
 - (d) did not know how much they were drinking.
4. Most drivers start off with at least :
 - (a) a double measure.
 - (b) a single measure.
 - (c) a little less than a single measure.
 - (d) two doubles.
5. The truth is that alcohol :
 - (a) does not affect the body but only the brain.
 - (b) affects only the brain.
 - (c) affects the body and the brain.
 - (d) has no effect on the body or the brain.

Passage 11

The reformer must know that what moves people is the authentic life, not mere writing. The newspaper and journals that Lokmanya Tilak and other reformers ran, the books they wrote, sold little, but had enormous effect. Their writing was known to reflect and be just an extension of, their exemplary lives. It was the authenticity of their lives which lent weight to their message, to their example. All knew that their lives were an integral whole—they were not moral in public life and lax in private, nor vice versa. They were not full of pious thoughts and sacred resolutions within the walls of a temple.

A writer who is merely entertaining his readers, even one who is merely informing them, can do what he wants with the rest of his life. But the writer, who sets out to use his pen to reform public life, cannot afford such dualities.

Here is the testimony of one great man—about the influence of another, Lokmanya Tilak.

"I believe that an editor who has anything worth saying and who commands a clientele cannot be easily hushed. He delivered his finished message as soon as he is put under duress. The Lokmanya spoke more eloquently from the Mandalay fortress than through columns of the printed Kesari. His influence was multiplied thousand fold by his imprisonment and his speech and his pen had acquired much greater power after he was discharged than before his imprisonment. By his death we have been editing his paper without pen and speech through the sacred resolution of the people to realize his life's dream. He could possibly have done more if he were today in the flesh preaching his view. Critics like me would perhaps be still finding fault in the expression of his or that. Today his message rules millions of hearts which are determined to raise a permanent living memorial by the fulfilment of his ambition in their lives."

1. Lokmanya Tilak's messages were most effective :
 - (a) when he delivered them through his editorials.
 - (b) after his death.
 - (c) before his imprisonment.
 - (d) when he delivered speeches.
 - (e) None of these
2. Which of the following is the result of Lokmanya Tilak's exemplary life?
 - (a) The newspapers edited by him did not incur monetary loss.
 - (b) The books written by him were useful.
 - (c) People resolved to fulfil his life's dream.
 - (d) Critics still find fault with his views.
 - (e) He was put in jail at Mandalay.
3. Which of the following is the general tendency of critics according to the passage?
 - (a) To find fault with one or the other expression of a writer.
 - (b) To praise only those writers whom they like.
 - (c) To condemn one and all the reformer writers.
 - (d) To suggest new ideas to the public.
 - (e) To justify their criticism.
4. In the context of the passage, a reformer becomes effective if :
 - (a) he is a journalist with an objective viewpoint.
 - (b) he is an author with an excellent style of writing.
 - (c) he is an effective political leader of the masses.
 - (d) he is a person with consistency in his writing and life style.
 - (e) he is good critic of social practices.
5. In the context of the passage, which of the following statements about Lokmanya Tilak and the reformers is true?
 - (a) They were moral in private life but lax in public life.
 - (b) Their influence on people was negligible.
 - (c) Very few people used to read the newspapers edited by them.
 - (d) They were allowed to edit their newspapers even from inside the jail.
 - (e) Their influence was multiplied a thousand fold by their imprisonment.
6. Which of the following types of writers can be moral in their personal life and law in public life?
 - (a) Those who want to reform people.
 - (b) Those who want to entertain people.
 - (c) Those who have a large number of followers who wish to emulate them.
 - (d) Those who lead an authentic life.
 - (e) Those whose writing is an extension of their exemplary lives.

Passage 12

A person who takes the trouble to form his own opinions and beliefs, will feel that he owes no responsibility to the majority for his conclusions. If he is a genuine lover of truth, if he is inspired by a passion for seeing things as they are and an abhorrence of holding ideas which do not conform to facts, he will be wholly independent of the assent of those around him. When he proceeds to apply his beliefs in the practical conduct of life, the position is different. There are then good reasons why his attitude should be less inflexible. The society in which he is placed is an ancient and composite growth. The people from whom he dissents have not come by their opinions, customs and by a process of mere haphazard. These opinions and customs all had their origin in a certain real supposed fitness. They have certain depth of root in the lives of a proportion of the existing generation. Their congruity with one another may have come to an end. That is only one side of the truth. The most zealous propagandism cannot penetrate to them. In common language, we speak of a generation as something possessed of a kind of exact unity, with all its parts and members homogenous. Yet, plainly it is not this. It is a whole but a whole in a state of constant flux its factors and elements are eternally shifting. It is not one but many generations. Each of the seven ages of man is neighbour to all the rest. The column of the veterans is already sinking into the last abyss, while the column of the newest recruits is forming to each its tradition, its tendency and its possibilities. Only a proportion of each can have nerve enough to grasp the banner of a new truth and endurance to bear it along rugged and untrodden ways. Thus we must remember the stuff of which life is made. We must consider what an overwhelming preponderence of the most tenacious energies and most concentrated interests of a society must be absorbed between material cares and the solitude of the affections. It is obviously unreasonable to lose patience and quarrel with one's time because it is tardy in throwing off its institutions and beliefs and slow to achieve the transformation which is the problem in front of it. Men and women have to live. The task for most of us is arduous enough to make us well pleased with even such imperfect shelter as we find in daily use and wont. To insist on whole community being made at once to submit to the reign of new practices and ideas that have just begun to commend themselves to the most advanced speculative intelligence of the time, this even if it were a possible process, would do hurry on social dissolution.

1. What is the hard task the author is referring to in the paragraph?
(a) To earn a living. (b) To live normal life.
(c) To change the society. (d) To change according to times.
(e) To find shelter.
 2. According to the passage, customs and traditions originate from?
(a) Beliefs (b) Conflicts of life
(c) Social utility (d) Contemporary leadership
(e) Ignorance
 3. According to the author, the attitude of self-opinionated person in the practical social life should be :
(a) rigid. (b) flexible.
(c) generous. (d) optimistic.
(e) revolutionary.

4. According to the author, a generation is a whole but it is always :
(a) homogeneous. (b) unified in values.
(c) growing. (d) constant.
(e) heterogeneous.
5. What does the author mean by describing 'apply his beliefs in the practical conduct of life' in line six of the passage?
(a) To practise what he believes. (b) To preach what he believes.
(c) To indoctrinate what he believes. (d) To adhere to what he believes.
(e) To denounce what he believes.
6. According to the author, why overnight change in social setting is not desirable?
(a) It will invigorate our life.
(b) It is difficult to bring about.
(c) It will lead to social disintegration.
(d) It will retard progress of the society.
(e) None of these.
7. The author's attitude towards the problem he discusses is :
(a) opportunistic. (b) realistic.
(c) pessimistic. (d) intransient.
(e) doctrinaire.

Passage 13

Most of us use the products of science—railways, aeroplanes, electricity, wireless and thousands of others—without thinking how they came into existence. We take them for granted, as if we were entitled to them as a matter of right. And we are very proud of the fact that we live in an advanced age and are ourselves so very 'advanced'. Now, there is no doubt that our age is a very different one from previous ages and I think it is perfectly correct to say that it is far more advanced. But that is a different thing from saying that we as individuals or groups are more advanced. It would be the height of absurdity to say that because an engine-driver can run an engine and Plato or Socrates could not, the engine-driver is more advanced than, or is superior to Plato or Socrates. But it would be perfectly correct to say that the engine itself is a more advanced method of locomotion than Plato's chariot was.

1. Which one of the following statements is true?
(a) An engine-driver is cleverer than Plato or Socrates.
(b) Plato or Socrates is in no way inferior to the engine-driver.
(c) Plato and Socrates surpassed the engine-driver in every respect.
(d) The engine-driver cannot be compared to Plato or Aristotle.
2. In this passage the author mentions Plato and/or Socrates to emphasise that :
(a) they are/were men of great scholarship.
(b) people as individuals in the modern age are not more advanced than their predecessors.
(c) the engine is a better mode of locomotion than Plato's chariot.
(d) Plato and Aristotle had greater respect for learning.

3. According to the author, the present age is far more advanced than :
 - (a) all the previous ages in some respect.
 - (b) the age of Socrates and Aristotle in some respects.
 - (c) some of the previous ages in all respects.
 - (d) all the previous ages in all respects.
4. Many of us make use of machines :
 - (a) with very little knowledge of their mechanism.
 - (b) without any knowledge of their historical significance.
 - (c) with full knowing of their genesis.
 - (d) without knowing how they were invented.
5. People today are very proud because they live :
 - (a) in a philosophically advanced age.
 - (b) in a materially advanced age.
 - (c) in a scientifically advanced age.
 - (d) in a spiritually advanced age.

Passage 14

I tried a smile—there was no response. I offered the customary gifts—he waved them aside. I tried the few words I knew—and with a gesture of dignity and scorn he handed me a present, a solitary egg; white and chill it nestled in my palm. I smiled again but even I felt that my smiles had become mechanical. There was obviously nothing for it : I would have to put on my little act, which in my opinion is worth a whole Platoon of Assam Rifles as a safety measure. I removed my dentures. There was a roar of interest and excitement from the crowd. I put them back. Another roar. After I had conducted this humiliating performance several times, there was at least a reaction. The chief's lips began to twitch, and finally he broke into a hearty laugh. Pointing to his greying hair, he declared, 'I am an old man too', and soon he was sitting beside me very affably.

1. At first the author was treated by the chief as :
 - (a) a person of lower status.
 - (b) a person of higher status.
 - (c) an old friend of the community.
 - (d) a possible enemy.
2. The removing of dentures by the author was intended to show that :
 - (a) he was not frightened.
 - (b) he was old and weak in some ways.
 - (c) he knew a lot of tricks to amuse people.
 - (d) he did not wish to be treated as a friend.
3. The crowd was made up of :
 - (a) the soldiers from Assam Rifles.
 - (b) the tribal people.
 - (c) the men who had accompanied the author.
 - (d) the chief's bodyguards.

4. The passage suggests that :
 - (a) it is impossible to make friends with the tribals.
 - (b) it is quite easy to be accepted by the tribals.
 - (c) with a little effort it is possible to make friends with the hearts of the tribals.
 - (d) only a gift can win over the hearts of the tribals.
5. The chief laughed heartily when :
 - (a) the author offered the usual gifts.
 - (b) the crowd roared with interest and excitement.
 - (c) the author removed his dentures again and again.
 - (d) the author received the present and smiled.

Passage 15

In the past man's worst enemy was Nature. He lived under the continual threat of famine and pestilence, a wet summer could bring death to whole nation' and every winter was a menace. Mountains stood like a barrier between people and people, a sea was less a highway than an impassable division. Today Nature, though still an enemy, is an enemy almost completely conquered. Modern agriculture assures us of an ample food supply. Modern transportation has made the resources of the entire planet accessible to all its inhabitants. Modern medicine and sanitation allow dense populations to cover the ground without risk of pestilence. True, we are still at the mercy of the more violent natural convulsions. Against earthquake, flood and hurricane man has, as yet, devised no adequate protection. At most times, Nature is no longer formidable, she has been subdued.

1. Modern medicine has helped man :
 - (a) to live longer everywhere in the world.
 - (b) to live a healthy life in hygienic conditions.
 - (c) to live in thickly populated areas without fear of epidemics.
 - (d) balance population with available resources.
2. Man has not yet succeeded in controlling the furies of :
 - (a) earthquakes. (b) floods.
 - (c) hurricanes. (d) All the three above.
3. Which one of the following statements best reflects the underlying conviction of the passage?
 - (a) Man can do wonders.
 - (b) Man's knowledge has no end.
 - (c) Man has been able to control Nature to a great extent.
 - (d) Man has been able to control Nature completely.
4. In ancient times, Man had an apprehension of :
 - (a) epidemics. (b) severe droughts.
 - (c) floods. (d) All the three above.
5. The modern transport system is a blessing as it :
 - (a) has helped decrease the distance between towns and villages.
 - (b) has brought comfort to both towns and villages.
 - (c) has made all the commodities available to everyone.
 - (d) has encouraged people to travel for pleasure.

Passage 16

The capitalist system of society does not foster healthy relations among human beings. A few people own all the means of production and others—though nominally few have to sell their labour under conditions imposed upon them. The emphasis of capitalism being on the supreme importance of material wealth the intensity of its appeal is to the acquisitive intensity. It promotes worship of economic power with little regard to the means employed for its acquisition and the end that it serves. By its exploitation of human beings to the limits of endurance its concentration is on the largest profit rather than maximum production. Thus the division of human family is done on the basis of economic circumstance. All this is injurious to division of human dignity. And when the harrowed poor turn to the founders of religion for succour, they rather offer a subtle defence of the established order. They promise future happiness for their present suffering and conjure up visions of paradise to redress the balance to soothe the suffering and the revolt of the tortured men. The system imposes injustice, the religion justifies it.

1. The passage indicates that the capitalist system is :
(a) fair. (b) ambitious.
(c) prosperous. (d) dehumanising.
2. The established order is supported by religion to :
(a) alleviate the suffering of the poor in the capitalist system.
(b) perpetuate the injustice imposed by the capitalist system.
(c) balance the suffering of the poor with hopes of future rewards.
(d) help the tortured men to seek redress.
3. In a capitalist system :
(a) the means justify the ends.
(b) the ends justify the means.
(c) the means endorsed by religion are strictly followed.
(d) means which lead to exploitation are strictly prohibited.
4. Capitalism is injurious to human relations because it divides society into two groups, i.e. :
(a) working and non-working. (b) exploiters and exploited.
(c) religious and irreligious. (d) buyers and sellers.
5. In a capitalistic system of society each man wishes :
(a) to acquire maximum wealth. (b) to produce maximum wealth.
(c) to have visions of paradise. (d) to soothe the sufferings of other.

Passage 17

If I had been asked in my early youth whether I preferred to have dealings only with men or only with books, my answer would certainly have been in favour of books. In later years this has become less and less. Not that I have had so much better experiences with men than with books, on the contrary delightful books even now come my way more often than purely delightful men. But the many bad experiences with men have nourished the meadow of my life as the noblest book could not do.

1. The author says that in later years his love of books diminished because :
 - (a) he did not get many delightful books to read.
 - (b) he had better experiences with men than with books.
 - (c) he had given up the habit of reading books.
 - (d) even the bad experiences he had with men were more valuable than what the noblest books could give.
2. Which one of the following statements best reflects the main arguments of the passage?
 - (a) Books are always better than men.
 - (b) There are more purely delightful men than purely delightful books.
 - (c) It is the experience with other human beings that nourishes one's life and not necessarily books.
 - (d) Neither men nor books give any worth while experience.
3. Which one of the pairs of phrases best helps to bring out the metaphorical meaning of the meadow of my life?
 - (a) Pure and healthy life.
 - (b) Vast and rich life.
 - (c) Well nourished but dull life.
 - (d) Poor but simple life.
4. In his early youth, the author :
 - (a) liked to have more dealings with books than with men.
 - (b) preferred to have dealings only with books.
 - (c) liked to have more dealings with men than with books.
 - (d) liked to have dealings more with men than with books.

Passage 18

In everyday speech we talk of having a good memory, of having a poor memory, of having a better memory for faces than for names, of having a memory that is failing and so on. Such talk suggests that memory is an object, a thing which we possess in the same way as we possess a head or a big toe. Yet it is true to say there is no such things as memory. A big toe can be seen and touched, but not so memory. Should an acquaintance boast of having an excellent memory, we cannot confirm his claim in the same way as if he boasted the possession of a well stocked library. We cannot ask him to show his memory. What we could do, however, is to see how much of his past experience he can recollect and how many of the books that he has read he can remember. Memory is a physical and mental retention of the past for future use. The mind and the body tend to forget experiences which are either unwelcome or useless.

1. The author says that :
 - (a) memory is not tangible.
 - (b) memory is like a big toe.
 - (c) big toes are more tangible than memory.
 - (d) memory is an object.

2. The author implies :
 - (a) that memory has something to do with the brain.
 - (b) that memory has got nothing to do with the brain.
 - (c) that memory is like a well stocked library.
 - (d) that memory is experience.

3. Memory deals with :

<ol style="list-style-type: none"> (a) the past. (c) the future. 	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> (b) the present. (d) both the past and the present.

Passage 19

The stock-taking done at the first national convention on Consumer Protection served to highlight the areas that called for special attention to sustain the momentum of the movement as genuine forum for safeguarding the people's interests. Spreading awareness about the rights of the consumers and the relief open to them in case they did not get their money's worth of goods and services has rightly been identified as the first priority. While this may not be a difficult task in urban areas, where the movement is concentrated at present, taking it to the vast rural hinterland calls for a multi-media approach in which radio and television have a crucial role to play. The involvement of the 500-odd consumer organizations in the country in publicising the concept of fair trade practices and the remedies available against their violation will prove rewarding, if the message is conveyed through village bodies.

Government efforts remain confined at best to setting up the infrastructure after the formal launch of the movement with the enactment of the Consumer Protection Act. The mounting backlog of cases in consumer courts, points to the need for toning up the district level redressal machinery.

The main objective of the movement is the creation of a culture that denies place in the market for products that are not consumer friendly. This is possible only if consumer bodies take over the watch-dog role performed by the Government till now and exercise social control over the market to see that the benefits of liberalization are not reaped by traders alone. But the plea to industry to exercise self-regulation and maintain minimum standards of quality and devise appropriate pricing is bound to go unheeded unless strict measures are taken to ensure compliance.

1. The first national convention on Consumer Protection has :
 - (a) highlighted the areas for special attention.
 - (b) spread awareness about consumer rights.
 - (c) specified in relief open to the consumer.
 - (d) given it a momentum.

2. Consumer Protection Act proposes to give the Consumer Protection against :
 - (a) highly priced substandard goods.
 - (b) cheating by selling substandard goods.
 - (c) not getting his money's worth.
 - (d) denial of relief if the product is not upto the mark.

3. Government contributed to the Consumer Protection Movement by :
 - (a) toning up a district level redressal machinery.
 - (b) clearing the backlog cases in the consumer court.
 - (c) setting up infrastructure.
 - (d) enactment of the Consumer Protection Act.

4. Spreading Consumer Protection Movement to the rural areas needs :
 - (a) official patronage.
 - (b) a multi-media approach.
 - (c) consumer organization to canvass this.
 - (d) message to be conveyed by village bodies.
5. Role of consumer bodies is :
 - (a) to maintain minimum standards of quality.
 - (b) to function as a watch-dog.
 - (c) to make a plea to industry to exercise self-control.
 - (d) to exercise social control over the market.

Passage 20

Though the U.S. prides itself on being a leader in the world community, a recent report shows that it lags far behind other industrialized countries in meeting the needs of its youngest and most vulnerable citizens. The U.S. has a higher infant mortality-rate, a higher proportion of low birth-weight babies, a smaller proportion of babies immunized against childhood diseases and a much higher rate of adolescent pregnancies. These findings, described as a 'quiet crisis' requiring immediate and far-reaching action, appeared in a report prepared by a task force of educators, doctors, politicians and business people. According to the report, a fourth of the nation's 12 million infants and toddlers live in poverty. As many as half confront risk factors that could harm their ability to develop intellectually, physically and socially. Child immunizations are too low, more children are born into poverty, more are in substandard care while their parents work and more are being raised by single parents. When taken together, these and other risk factors can lead to educational and health problems that are much harder and more costly to reverse.

The crisis begins in the womb with unplanned parenthood. Women with unplanned pregnancies are less likely to seek pre-natal care. In the U.S. 80% of teenage pregnancies and 56% of all pregnancies are unplanned. The problems continue after birth where unplanned pregnancies and unstable partnerships often go hand in hand. Since 1950, the number of single parent families has nearly tripled. More than 25 per cent of all births today are to unmarried mothers. As the number of single parent families grow and more women enter the work force, infants and toddlers are increasingly in the care of people other than their parents.

Most disturbingly, recent statistics show that American parents are increasingly neglecting or abusing their children. In only four years from 1987-1991, the number of children in foster care increased by over 50 per cent. Babies under the age of one are the fastest growing category of children entering foster care. The crisis affects children under the age of three most severely, the report says. Yet, it is this period-from infancy through pre-school years-that sets the stage for a child's future.

Directions (Q. 1-9) : Choose the word which is most opposite in meaning to the given word as used in the passage.

1. The main focus of the passage is on the plight of :
 - (a) orphaned children. (b) teenage mothers.
 - (c) low birthweight babies. (d) unwed mothers.
 - (e) None of these.

2. Children falling in which age-group are most severely affected by the 'quiet crisis'?
 - (a) Below one year.
 - (b) Below three years.
 - (c) Between two & three years.
 - (d) Between one & three years.
 - (e) None of these.
3. Which of the following does not constitute the 'quiet crisis' in the U.S. as per the task force report?
 - (a) Lower proportion of new born babies with normal weight.
 - (b) Higher incidence of adolescent girls becoming mothers.
 - (c) Lower rate of babies surviving childhood diseases.
 - (d) Larger proportion of babies who are deprived of immunization.
 - (e) Increasing cases of teenage couples getting divorced.
4. Which of the following statements is not true in the context of the passage?
 - (a) The number of single parent families today is approximately three times more than four decades ago.
 - (b) The number of children in the U.S. entering foster care has decreased after 1991.
 - (c) In the U.S., the number of infants living in poverty is about 3 million.
 - (d) Only 20 per cent of all the pregnancies in the U.S. are planned.
 - (e) About 6 million infants in the U.S. are likely to develop educational and health problems.
5. The number of children born to married mothers in the U.S. is approximately how many times the number of children born to unwed mothers?

(a) 1.5 times	(b) 2 times
(c) 3 times	(d) 3.5 times
(e) Not mentioned in the passage.
6. Children born out of unplanned pregnancies are highly vulnerable because :
 - (a) they are raised by single parents.
 - (b) their parents are mostly poor.
 - (c) they are mostly malnourished.
 - (d) they are less likely to receive prenatal care.
 - (e) their parents are emotionally immature.
7. Decide which of the following factors is/are responsible for the physical, intellectual and social under-development of infants in the U.S.?

A. Illiteracy of parents
B. Lack of parental care
C. Poverty
(a) Only A	(b) Only B
(c) Only C	(d) Both A & C
(e) Both B & C

8. An increasing number of infants in the U.S. are in foster care on account of :
- (a) an increasing number of single parent families with the female member working.
 - (b) an increasing number of women maintaining the status of unwed motherhood and becoming economically independent.
 - (c) an increasing number of employed couples who are required to stay apart.
 - (d) an increasing number of women getting divorced and abandoning their babies.
 - (e) an increasing number of parents who lack awareness about baby-care.

9. The task force report seems to be based on the data pertaining to the period :
- (a) 1987-91.
 - (b) 1950 onwards till date.
 - (c) 1987 onwards till date.
 - (d) 1950-91.
 - (e) 1991 onwards till date.

Directions (Q. 10-12) : Choose the word which is most nearly the same in meaning as the given word as used in the passage.

10. CONFRONT

- (a) Face
- (b) Tolerate
- (c) Succumb
- (d) Eliminate
- (e) Oppose

11. VULNERABLE

PRACTICAL GRAMMAR

Chapter

Narration

- (a) Direct Narration : Direct narration is a kind of speech which is reported by some other person exactly in the words spoken by the speaker. This speech is placed within inverted commas.
- (i) She said to him, "I shall give you money." (Direct Narration)
- (b) Indirect Narration : Indirect narration is a speech which is reported by some other person by using certain conjunctions in place of commas and making necessary changes in the verbs and the pronouns of the reported speech.
- (i) She told him that she would give him money. (Indirect Narration)

For the purpose of changing narration, sentences are divided as follows :

1. Assertive Sentences

Sentences denoting statements in affirmative and negative.

- You are playing.
- He did this work.
- She was not sleeping.
- They will not write to us.

2. Interrogative Sentences

(a) Sentences beginning with auxiliary verbs. (Yes or No answer type questions)

- Are you playing?
- Did he do this work?
- Was she sleeping?
- Will they write to us?

(b) Sentences beginning with question words such as when, where, why, who, which, what etc.

- When are you playing?
- Why did he do this work?
- Where was she sleeping?
- What will they write to us?

3. Imperative Sentences

Sentences denoting command, request & advice are called imperative sentences.

- Soldiers, turn to the right.
- Do not waste time.
- Please give me something to eat.
- Let me stay here.

4. Exclamatory Sentences (Expressing, joy, sorrow, wonder etc.)

- How nice of him!
- Ah! It is beautiful locket
- What a pretty girl she is!
- Alas! All is over.

5. Optative Sentences (Expressing wish, prayer, etc.)

- May you live long!
- Good bye, my daughters!
- Happy Diwali, children!
- Fie, what an ugly sight!

Change in Narration

Assertive Sentences

- 1. Assertive Sentences : Assertive sentences are changed in indirect narration as follows:

(A) Reporting Verb : Verb in the Reporting verb is changed into "tell" or "told" with an object otherwise 'say' and 'said' are retained.

'Think'/wonder to oneself can also be used.

- (i) He says, "I am a doctor". (Direct)
He says that he is a doctor. (Indirect)
- (ii) She said, "I am a doctor." }
She said that she was a doctor.
- (iii) She says to me, "I am a doctor." }
She tells me that she is a doctor.
- (iv) She thought, "She will not go out with him." }
She thought to herself that she would not go out with him.

(B) Inverted Commas : "That" is used in place of inverted commas.

- (i) She said to me, "I am a doctor."
She told me that she was a doctor.

(C) Tense

(a) If the Reporting verb is in the Present or future or Reported speech is a universal truth, the tense of Reported speech does not change.

- (i) She says, "I shall go to Delhi."
She says that she will go to Delhi.
- (ii) I say to her, "I shall give her money."
I tell her that I shall give her money.
- (iii) Teacher said to the students, "The sun rises in the East."
Teacher told the students that the sun rises in the east.

(b) If the Reporting verb is in the past, the tense of the Reported speech changes into past as follows :

(i) Present tense changes into past tense

Present indefinite	Past indefinite
Present Continuous	Past Continuous
Present Perfect	Past Perfect
Present Perfect Continuous	Past Perfect Continuous

(ii) Past tense changes as follows

Past indefinite	Past Perfect
Past Continuous	Past Perfect Continuous
Past Perfect	No Change
Past Perfect Continuous	No Change

(iii) Future tense
will/shall change into would/should

(iv) Modals are changed as follows

May	Might
Can	Could
Have to	Had to
Had to	Had had to
Should	No change

Transformation

Transformation is a process of changing sentences into various forms given below.

Part-I (Simple Sentences)

Change of a simple sentence to a complex sentence is made by expanding a phrase or words into a subordinate clause.

- (a) Noun phrase/Noun to Noun clause.
- (b) Adjective phrase/Adjective to Adjective clause.
- (c) Adverb phrase/Adverb to Adverb clause.

Part-II (Complex Sentences)

Change of a complex sentence to a simple sentence is made by replacing a subordinate clause into a word or phrase as follows.

- (a) Noun clause to Noun phrase, Noun, Infinitive, Gerund case in apposition etc.
- (b) Adjective clause to Adjective phrase/Adjective, Participle, Infinitive case in apposition etc.

Punctuation

Punctuation is a system in which marks are used in writing to indicate pauses and division of sentences. The meaning of written communication is made clear to the readers by the use of these marks. In fact punctuation is the right use of putting in marks or stops in writing.

The following are the principal marks of punctuation.

1. Comma (,)
2. Apostrophe (')
3. Semi Colon (;)
4. Colon (:)
5. Dash and Parenthesis. (-)
6. Quotation marks (Inverted Commas) (" ")
7. Hyphen (-)
8. End marks —
 - (a) Full stop (.)
 - (b) Question Marks (?)
 - (c) Exclamatory marks (!)

Besides punctuation marks the students are required to know the use of :

- (a) Capital letters
- (b) How to write numerals?

Use of Comma (,)

(a) The comma is used for a short or slight pause to separate words in a list but it is avoided before 'and' :

(i) Everything they will give me, food, clothes and salary.

(ii) We will need cake, candles, lights and all.

(b) Used to separate Adverb Clause when it is followed by main clause:

(i) When the train arrives, we shall board it

(ii) Unless you take exercise, you will not lose weight.

(c) Used to mark off non-restrictive adjective clause. In such cases Adjective clause acts as a co-ordinate clause :

(i) He ate contaminated food, which (and this) made him sick.

(ii) She went out with Arnav, who (and he) bought her a necklace.

(iii) She said that she would help me, which (but which) was not true.

Note : Restrictive Adjective clause is restrictive in meaning.

Comma is not used to mark off restrictive clauses.

- (i) My brother who is working hard is bound to succeed.
(ii) The boys who attended N.C.C. Camp will be awarded certificates.

(d) Used to write Noun in appositions :

- (i) I would like to meet Mr. Kabir, your manager.
(ii) Mr. Kabir, the manager of our company, will call on you tomorrow.

(e) Used for Parenthetical Expressions:

- (i) We knew, of course, that he would not attend your marriage.
(ii) They are, however, intelligent.
(iii) Your friend, if I am correct, is dishonest.
(iv) They, as you know, will visit us next Summer.
(v) Therefore, I like her.
(vi) Moreover, She is intelligent.
(vii) In fact, I like him.
(viii) Slowly, She entered the room.

Note : Students should take note of the following phrases carefully. after all—to say the least, is several ways, I know, I am sure, however, of course, therefore etc.

(f) Used to separate nominative absolute:

The sun having risen, we left for the town.
The task having been done, They went to bed.

Spelling Rules

Introduction

English spelling is an intriguing part of learning English. Max Muller went one step further and summed up the dilemma of those learning English. "English spelling is a national misfortune to England and international misfortune to the rest of the world.

Various scholars and linguists have suggested a number of ways to learn spellings such as Dictionary method, Dictation method, Playway method, Old drill method and so on.

Without going into the merits and demerits of any methods we may agree to the sound advice of Tomkinson that 'Caught rather than taught' is the best way to learn spellings. In other words a student can solve the problem just by reading constantly and preparing a list of words that spell a danger for a student.

There are many reasons for poor spellings. A few among them are poor memory, weak retention power and less of reading activity, therefore, correct spellings need constant writing practice, usage and power of recollection. The more a student recollects a word, the more capability he acquires to avoid errors in spelling words.

Contractions

What is a Contraction?

Contraction is the short form of a word. It is formed by combining two words into one.

Forms of Contractions :

The two words are usually contracted as follows:

- (i) Subject + auxiliary verb.
- (ii) Auxiliary verb + not

1. Subject (Noun and Pronoun) and Auxiliary verb :

Auxiliary Verbs are

- (a) To be – is, am, are, was, were
- (b) To do – do, did
- (c) To have –have, had
- (d) Modal auxiliaries :

Will, shall, can, Could, may, might, should, must

The contraction of subject + Auxiliary is made by dropping the beginning of the auxiliary verb. The dropped letter is shown by an apostrophe.

I am	I'm
I have	I've
I will/Shall	I'll
Moni has	Moni's
Moni is	Moni's

2. Auxiliary verb + not :

This type of contraction is formed by dropping 'O' the dropped letter is shown by an apostrophe.

- | | |
|---------|---------|
| are not | aren't |
| was not | wasn't |
| am not | arent't |

Since "amn't is wrong, use 'aren't for this wrong expression.

Note : In negative verb phrases with "be, have, will, shall, would and should." contractions may be used in two forms.

She's not or she isn't

He'll not or he won't
